EXTRACT from the Minutes of the AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY, at a Meeting held at the State-Houſe, Philadelphia, April 19, 1768.

THE Committee appointed to conſider the Deſcription of Mr. DAVID RITTENHOUSE's NEW ORRERY (which had been communicated to their laſt Meeting by Dr. Smith) do report, that they had taken the ſame into Conſideration---" and "think Mr. Rittenhouſe deſerves great Applauſe, for having projected ſo uſeful and curious a Machine; and that if it ſhall "anſwer his Intention (which the Committee have the utmoſt "Reaſon to expect from his known Abilities) they are of Opi"nion it will do Honour to himſelf, and to this Province, the "Place of his Nativity. The Committee, therefore, beg Leave "to recommend it to the Society to order the Deſcription to be "publiſhed, not doubting, but it will give Pleaſure to Perſons "of a curious and philoſophical Turn."

The Society having taken the above Report into Conſideration, do agree with the Committee, and order the Deſcription to be publiſhed, together with this Minute relating thereto.

A DESCRIPTION of a new ORRERY, planned, and now nearly finiſhed, by Mr. DAVID RITTENHOUSE, of Norriton, in the County of Philadelphia.

THIS MACHINE is intended to have three FACES, ſtanding perpendicular to the Horizon: That in the Front to be four Feet ſquare, made of Sheet Braſs, curiouſly poliſhed, ſilvered and painted in proper Places, and otherwiſe ornamented. From the Center ariſes an Axis, to ſupport a gilded Braſs Ball, intended to repreſent the SUN.---Round this Ball move others, made of Braſs or Ivory, to repreſent the PLANETS: They are to move in Elliptical Orbits, having the Central Ball in one Focus; and their Motions to be ſometimes ſwifter, and ſometimes ſlower, as nearly according to the true Law of an equable Deſcription of Areas as is poſſible, without too great a Complication of Wheel-work.---The Orbit of each Planet is likewiſe to be properly inclined to thoſe of the others; and their APHELIA and NODES juſtly placed; and their Velocities ſo accurately adjuſted, as not to differ ſenſibly from the Tables of Aſtronomy in ſome Thouſands of Years.

For the greater Beauty of the Inſtrument, the Balls repreſenting the Planets, are to be of a conſiderable Bigneſs; but ſo contrived, that they may be taken off at Pleaſure, and others, much ſmaller, and fitter for ſome Purpoſes, put in their Places.

When the Machine is put in Motion, by the turning of a Winch, there are three Indexes, which point out the Hour of the Day, the Day of the Month, and the Year (according to the Julian Account) anſwering to that Situation of the Heavenly Bodies which is then repreſented; and ſo continually, for a Period of 5000 Years, either forward or backward.

In order to know the true Situation of a Planet, at any particular Time, the ſmall Sett of Balls are to be put each on its reſpective Axis, then the Winch to be turned round 'til each Index points to the given Time; then a ſmall TELESCOPE, made for the Purpoſe, is to be applied to the Central Ball, and directing it to the Planet, its Longitude and Inclination will be ſeen on a large Braſs Circle, ſilvered, and properly graduated, repreſenting the ZODIAC, and having a Motion of one Degree in 72 Years, agreeable to the Preceſſion of the EQUINOXES:--- So likewiſe, by applying the Teleſcope to the Ball repreſenting the EARTH, and directing it to any Planet, then will both the Longitude and Latitude of that Planet be pointed out (by an Index, and graduated Circle) as ſeen from the Earth.

The two leſſer FACES are to be four Feet in Heighth, and 2 Feet 3 Inches in Breadth: One of them will repreſent and exhibit all the Appearances of JUPITER, and his Satellites, their Eclipſes, Tranſits and Inclinations: Likewiſe all the Appearances of SATURN, with his Ring and Satellites.---And the other will repreſent all the Phænomena of the MOON, particularly the exact Time, Quantity, and Duration of her Eclipſes, and thoſe of the SUN, occaſioned by her Interpoſition; with a moſt curious Contrivance for exhibiting the Appearance of a SOLAR ECLIPSE at any particular Place on the Earth: Likewiſe the true Place of the MOON in the Signs, with her Latitude, and the Place of her APOGEE and NODES, the SUN's Declination, Equation of Time, &c. &c.---It muſt be underſtood that all theſe Motions are to correſpond exactly with the Celeſtial Motions, and not to differ ſome Degrees from the Truth, as is common in Orreries.

If it ſhall be thought proper, the whole is to be adjuſted to, and kept in Motion by, a ſtrong PENDULUM CLOCK, nevertheleſs, at Liberty to be turned by the Winch, and adjuſted to any Time, paſt or future.

N. B. The above Machine is to be ſupported by a Mahogany Caſe, adorned with Foliage, and ſome of the beſt Enrichments of Sculpture.---The Part containing the Mechanical Aſtronomy of the MOON, is already finiſhed, and is found perfectly to anſwer, by many Trials already made of it. The Clock Part of it may be contrived to play a great Variety of MUSIC.

WARSAW, January 16.

IT is thought that when the Dyet meets again, the Grand Confederacy will be diſſolved.

In order to ſecure the public tranquility of this city, when the dyet meets again, and during the time that it is aſſembled, there will be as large a body of Ruſſian troops here as before.

Brunſwick, Jan. 26. The Hereditary Princeſs is declared to be with child again.

Madrid, Jan. 12. We have juſt received advice from Cadiz of the arrival of the frigate Venus, from Buenos-Ayres, with 151 Jeſuits on board from Paraguay, and that three more ſhips with 100 more of thoſe Fathers were ſeparated from the above mentioned frigate by bad weather, at the mouth of the river Plata. She ſailed from Rio de la Plata the 12th of October laſt, and has brought home 686,770 pieces of eight.

Copenhagen, Jan. 29. Laſt night, about 10 o'clock, the Queen of Denmark was ſafely delivered of a Prince, to the inexpreſſible happineſs of her Royal Conſort, and the whole Court. Her Majeſty and the new born Prince are this morning both as well as can be expected. This very important and much-deſired event, happened but an hour or two before the anniverſary of the King of Denmark's own birth-day, which we are now celebrating with double feſtivity. The birth of an heir male to the Crown has compleatly fulfilled the ardent wiſhes and prayers of the public, and conſequently ſpread a real joy through all ranks of people. Immediately after it was made known, the Foreign Miniſters, and all the Nobility, waited upon the King, who was pleaſed to receive their compliments of congratulation, and to expreſs the ſatisfaction received from their attention on this intereſting event. The King of Denmark beſtowed ſeveral marks of favour on this happy occaſion.

Warſaw, Jan. 23. We have advice from good hands, that the Empreſs of Ruſſia has declared that ſhe will ſet at liberty the Biſhop of Cracovia, and the three Poliſh Lords who were arreſted with him, as ſoon as the Dyet breaks up.

Vienna, Jan. 23. It is aſſured, that Eaſter Monday is the day fixed for the departure of the Archdutcheſs Caroline for Naples.

Copenhagen, Jan. 29. We hear from Aerhuys in Jutland, that one Drackenberg is ſtill living there, who on the 6th of November laſt celebrated his 142d birth-day, and that he then enjoyed a very good ſtate of health, and had no complaint, except that of his eye-ſight being weak.

Parma, Jan. 23. The very great ſcarcity that has prevailed for theſe three years paſt in the dominions of the Infant Duke, has induced the Government to cauſe a treatiſe written in French by the Sieur Muſtel, upon the cultivation and uſe of potatoes, and the method of mixing them with wheat flour to make bread, to be tranſlated into Italian. The firſt bread of this kind made by way of trial, was preſented to the Infant, and greatly approved of.

Dublin, Jan. 26. A few days ago died at Rathcoffy, in the county of Kildare, Mrs. Alice Dunn, aged 120 years; ſhe retained her ſenſes to the laſt.

Dublin, Feb. 3. A few days ago was married Mr. Richard Mallard, the Engliſh Dwarf, to Miſs Mary Crow, the Iriſh Lilliputian, both of Crane-lane; from this extraordinary union may be expected a race of thoſe diminutives celebrated by the immortal Swift in Gulliver's travels.

LONDON.

Jan. 26. They write from Berlin, that the King of Pruſſia has juſt made a grand promotion of military officers, among whom the Prince of Orange, and the Prince of Naſſau-Weilbourgh, are included as Major-Generals.

Some Letters from Madrid mention, that advice had been received there from New-Spain, that ſeveral Jeſuits, diſguiſed like mule-drivers, endeavouring to eſcape to the North-ſea, had been ſtopped by his Majeſty's officers on the road between Panama and Darien, with ſeveral loads of gold, ſilver, and other rich effects.

The Spaniſh Jeſuits have preſented a petition to the Government of Corſica, for leave to eſtabliſh a college and church in that iſland, for their own uſe; but they had not received any categorical anſwer thereto when the laſt accounts came away.

Jan. 28. They write from L'Orient, that they had received advice that a French homeward-bound Eaſt-Indiaman had been driven on ſhore from her anchors at the iſland of Madagaſcar, where the ſhip was broke up and plundered by the natives, and two-thirds of the crew either drowned or murdered.

The Corſicans are taking great pains to procure a reſpectable fleet. They have already three ſhips at ſea, which belong to the Government of the iſland; and the city of Ajaccio has added thereto a half-galley, carrying 120 men.

The Empreſs of Ruſſia has aſſigned the ſum of 40,000 roubles, and named thirty Marine Officers, to obſerve, in eight different places, the paſſage of Venus over the Sun's diſk, on the 3d of June 1769.

Feb. 2. Yeſterday there was a Levee at St. James's, and afterwards a Privy-Council, which did not break up till paſt four o'clock.

A private Council was held yeſterday at the Cockpit, Whitehall, at which the Lord Chancellor and ſeveral of the great officers of ſtate aſſiſted, ſaid to be relative to ſome diſpatches received from the North-American Colonies.

A letter from Rotterdam, dated Jan. 26, ſays, " The froſt ſtill continues, though not ſo intenſe as at the beginning; no veſſel has been able to ſtir out of the harbour ſince my landing, but are all frozen up. The ice is ſtill above a foot thick in the harbour."

We are informed from Leghorn, that the Corſicans are fitting out a ſmall fleet, which is deſtined for a ſecret expedition; and that, beſides the naval armaments that are going forward there, Gen. Paoli is raiſing 150 men to augment his army.

They write from Naples, that ſtrict ſearch has been made at Meſſina and Palermo to diſcover the effects of the Jeſuits, as nothing had been found there in their houſes and colleges; and that ſome perſons who were ſuſpected of having received and concealed them, had been arreſted, by which means a part of thoſe effects were already recovered, and lodged in the Royal Treaſury.

Feb. 4. We are informed, by a gentleman arrived from Embden, that his Pruſſian Majeſty had given orders for ſeveral ſhips to be fitted out there this ſeaſon, for the whale fiſhery in the Greenland ſeas.

The number of Jeſuits expelled from the kingdom of Naples amounts to 1500. The departure of thoſe from Sicily was ſuſpended for ſome time, on account of the Senate's petitioning the King to permit thoſe who were born on the iſland to ſpend the remainder of their days there; but it was all to no purpoſe.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman at Lancaſter, to his Friend in London, dated January 31, 1768.

" There is no ſafety in ſtirring out of doors, nor really any ſafety within doors in this town, the mobs being ſo riotous and outrageous on account of Parliamenteering, that they have not left a front window, frames or ſhutters, &c. but what they have broken to ſhivers, and even pulled down ſome houſes; one man has loſt his life; ſeveral others are terribly maimed; and God knows how this melancholy affair will end. I ſhall ſee you in London as ſoon as I can with ſafety leave my family."

Feb. 6. General Paoli, beſides all the political arrangements which he has made for the welfare of Corſica, is going to eſtabliſh a public bank there.

That Anne Perrot died laſt month at L'Orient, aged 102 years.

Suſan Lafon died at Montauban the 14th ult. in the 108th year of her age.

And Margaret Fournieux, widow, died in the ſame town, a few days after, aged 109 years.

From the GENTLEMAN's MAGAZINE for January, 1768.

DEFENCE of the AMERICANS.

Mr. URBAN,

YOUR anonymous correſpondent, has declaimed on a ſubject, which by an unhappy combination of ignorance and obſtinacy, has become very like a bone of contention between the young and the old provinces of this great common-wealth.

It ſeldom happens in diſputes of any kind, but that one ſide or the other lay the foundations of their arguments on error; it happens more particularly ſo with your angry correſpondent, for whoſe information I will beg leave to give a ſhort ſketch of the Britiſh conſtitution.

The Britiſh ſtate or empire conſiſts of ſeveral iſlands, and other diſtant countries, aſunder in different parts of the globe, but all united in allegiance to one Prince, and to the common law (Scotland excepted) as it exiſted in the old provinces or mother country, before the colonies or new provinces were formed. The prince, with a ſelect parliament, or aſſembly, make the legiſlative power of and for each province within itſelf. Where vicinity made it convenient, ſeveral iſlands and provinces were at ſundry times conſolidated, and repreſented by one parliament, as the Iſle of Wight, Cornwall, Wales, Cheſhire, Durham, and Scotland; by which means all Great-Britain and its contiguous iſles, are unitedly repreſented in one aſſembly in parliament. It has not as yet been thought proper to unite Ireland to the old provinces, though lying very near; nor any of the provinces of America, which lie at a great diſtance. But notwithſtanding this ſtate of ſeparate aſſemblies, the allegiance of the diſtant provinces to the crown will remain for ever unſhaken, while they enjoy the rights of Engliſhmen; that is, with the conſent of their ſovereign, the right of legiſlation each for themſelves; for this puts them on an exact level, in this reſpect, with their fellow ſubjects in the old provinces, and better than this they could not be by any change in their power. But if the old provinces ſhould often exerciſe the right of making laws for the new, they would probably grow as reſtleſs as the Corſicans, when they perceived they were no longer fellow ſubjects, but the ſubjects of ſubjects.

To illuſtrate this matter by a compariſon: Should it happen, through the revolutions of time, that ſome future king ſhould make choice of Ireland for his ſeat of government, and that the parliament of that kingdom, with his majeſty's concurrence, ſhould aſſume the right of taxing the people of England, would the people of England quietly acquieſce, or implicitly pay obedience to laws made by virtue of ſuch an aſſumed right? And yet, as there is no law in being to prevent his majeſty from making any part of his dominions the ſeat of his government, the caſe is by no means foreign to the preſent queſtion.

The laws made here to tax the Americans affect them as a diſtinct body, in which the law makers are in no manner whatever comprehended; whereas the laws made to tax Great-Britain, affect alike every member who gives his concurrence to ſuch law. And hence ariſes the eſſential difference between real and virtual repreſentations, ſo much agitated.

Your correſpondent obſerves, "that we are loaded with 130 "millions of debt; great part of which was contracted by de- "fending the Americans, and therefore that they are bound in "gratitude, &c." Were this argument of weight, and were the right of taxing to follow the obligation of defence, we have expended more than the whole ſum on various occaſions, in defence of the balance of power on the continent. Will your correſpondent, for that reaſon, argue, that Great-Britain has a right of taxing her friends in Germany? Hanover, for inſtance, was formerly ſaid to have coſt this nation immenſe ſums for its defence; and Hanover is a diſtrict under the obedience of the king of Great-Britain. Will it follow that we have any right to tax Hanover, or that Hanover, in gratitude for the ſums we have expended in her behalf, ſhould implicitly give up her ancient rights? Upon the whole, the point in diſpute does not depend on gratitude or defence, but on the right of Engliſhmen to give their own money with their own conſent. While the Americans were in poſſeſſion of that right, or thought themſelves in poſſeſſion of it, every requiſition for that purpoſe by the king or his miniſters was chearfully complied with; but ſince that right, by the miſtaken policy of one man, has been brought in queſtion; murmuring and diſcontent has ſucceeded, and every artifice is now practiced to withhold ſums levied by a new mode; which had they been demanded in the old way, would have been willingly granted. I am, Sir, &c. A. B.

Extract of a Letter from Portugal.

"A fabric of baiſe is now carrying on here with great ſucceſs: Twenty-five woollen manufacturers are arrived from Ireland, and more expected."

Extract of a Letter from Corte, in the iſland of Corſica, dated Jan. 4.

"Preparations are making for a very important expedition; the object of which, however, is a profound ſecret.

"We are aſſured that the Regencies of Algier, Tripoli, and Tunis, have ſought the friendſhip of our nation, and propoſed to enter into a treaty of alliance and commerce with us; but that their propoſitions have been refuſed, becauſe ſuch an alliance would too much enable the Barbarians to interrupt the trade of the other States of Italy; which our Dictator no way deſires."

We hear that it is agreed to raiſe 1,900,000l. by way of annuities and lottery, for the ſervice of the preſent year, viz. 1,300,000l. by three per cent. annuities, and 600,000l. by lottery.

Some accounts from Poland mention, that an anonymous letter had been lately thrown into the King's coach, as he was paſſing along the ſtreets of Warſaw, and that the Court had been put into ſome diſorder by it.

Laſt week the purſers of ſeveral capital ſhips in his Majeſty's ſervice, both at Portſmouth and Plymouth, received orders to indent at the Victualling Office for the neceſſary ſtores with all expedition.

Feb. 16. It is ſaid, that in conſequence of the bill lately paſſed for limiting the duration of Parliaments in Ireland, the preſent Parliament of that kingdom will be diſſolved at the concluſion of the preſent ſeſſion, and writs iſſued for a new election; ſo that we ſhall have a general election all over the three kingdoms at one and the ſame time.

Letters from Leghorn, dated Jan. 18, ſay, "They write from Corſica, that ſome conſiderable offers were lately made to General Paoli to engage him to enter into the ſervice of a certain great Power, but he made anſwer, That he had reſolved, in imitation of Timoleon, as ſoon as he procured the liberty of his country, to ſpend the reſt of his days in retirement."

According to recent letters from Genoa, the Republic had engaged to build ten new ſhips of war of different rates for the ſervice of France, by the middle of June 1771.

BOSTON, April 25.

To the PRINTERS of the BOSTON GAZETTE.

GENTLEMEN,

YOU are deſired to publiſh the incloſed. Yours,

A FARMER.

GENTLEMEN,

IT is impoſſible for me to expreſs the reverential Gratitude, with which I receive the very great Honour, you have been pleaſed to confer upon me by your late Letter.

The Rank of the Town of Boſton, the Wiſdom of her Counſels, and the Spirit of her Conduct, render, in my Opinion, the Approbation of her Inhabitants, ineſtimable; and therefore I ſhall ever place this Teſtimony of it, among the chief Bleſſings of my Life.

Love of my Country engaged me in that Attempt, to vindicate her Rights, and aſſert her Intereſts, which your Generoſity has thought proper ſo highly to aplaud; and if my humble Labours prove uſeful to the good People of theſe Colonies-----A Glory! beyond which my Ambition never wiſhed to riſe-----I am perſuaded that this happy Effect muſt flow from the Influence and Luſtre beſtowed upon them by your favourable Notice.

Never, until my Heart becomes inſenſible of all worldly Things, will it become inſenſible of the unſpeakable Obligations, which as an American I owe to the Inhabitants of the Province of Maſſachuſetts-Bay, for the Vigilance with which they have watched over, and the Magnanimity with which they have maintained the Liberties of the Britiſh Colonies on this Continent.

May the ſame ſacred Zeal for the common Welfare, the ſame Principles of Loyalty to our excellent Sovereign, of Affection to his illuſtrious Houſe, and of Duty to our beloved Parent Kingdom, which have uniformly actuated and guided your Colony, animate and direct every other, ſo that at Length that Union in Sentiments and Meaſures may be firmly formed, which as you, Gentlemen, moſt juſtly obſerve, "is ſo indiſpenſably neceſſary for the Security of the Whole."

Amongſt my warmeſt Wiſhes theſe will ever be ----- that the Province of Maſſachuſetts-Bay may rejoice in a perpetual Proſperity; that the Town of Boſton may always flouriſh with a Dignity becoming the Capital of ſo very reſpectable a State; that the Purity of her Intentions, the Prudence of her Deſigns, and the Vigour of her Actions, may conſtantly confound the Machinations of her Enemies; and that the Virtues of her preſent Inhabitants may be tranſmitted down from Age to Age, that ſo the lateſt Poſterity in theſe Colonies, may never want faithful Guardians of American Freedom. A FARMER.

Pennſylvania,

April 11, 1768.

To the very reſpectable Inhabitants of the Town of BOSTON."

We hear that ſeveral Farmers have been obliged to kill ſome of their Cattle, for want of Fodder, and there being no early ſprouting of Leaves or Graſs, by the unuſual Coldneſs of the Seaſon.

The Weather ſtill continues freezing: This Morning Ice was of a conſiderable Thickneſs.

NEW-YORK, April 28.

Extract of a late Letter from London.

"You may tell it publicly---from good Authority that our gracious Sovereign is no Way offended at the Oeconomy of the Americans,---is much pleaſed that they ſhould provide for themſelves, and that no Part of his Subjects ſhould be oppreſſed by other Parts. No Act of Parliament ſuppreſſes your Paper Money; ---but you are to be relieved by having a Bank, as they have in Ireland and Scotland. All due Attention will be paid to any Petition from the People by the Miniſter for the American Department, and I hope it will not be in the Power of a few to oppreſs and injure the Whole. There has been ſtrange Confuſion about Paper Currency, ſome have petitioned for, others againſt it, and an American Gentleman, lately examined before the Lords of Trade, poſitively ſpoke againſt it."

May 2. The Amazon, Smith, from London, but laſt from the Downs, in 7 Weeks and 4 Days, has brought over about 40 wealthy Families, from Derbyſhire, in order to ſettle in this, or ſome of the neighbouring Provinces, as may beſt ſuit them. The 6*th of April, in Lat.* 38:13, Long. 57 and 1-2, Captain Smith ſpoke with the Ship Earl of Hillſborough, Captain Shutter, from this Port, bound for Belfaſt, all well.

The Grace, Captain Chambers, in 7 Weeks and 4 Days from Briſtol, the 22*d of April, in Lat.* 34:17, ſpoke with a Snow from South-Carolina, bound for Vigo, and the next Day, in Lat. 36, he fell in with a Sloop from Rhode-Iſland, bound for Virginia, that had been 42 Days out.

Captain Campbell, from North-Carolina, in 8 Days, informs us, That Capt. John Marſhall, in a Brig belonging to this Port, from the Grenades, was, the Middle of April, caſt away about 4 Leagues from Topſail Inlet, on the Coaſt of North-Carolina, that the Veſſel would not be got off, but that the Crew, with the Rigging, &c. were ſaved; that Capt. Whitemarſh, in a Ship belonging to Piſcataqua, from Jamaica, had put into Cape-Look-Out, in Diſtreſs, having been robbed of all his Caſh, moſt of his Cloathing, and Part of his Cargo, by a Spaniſh Veſſel off the Weſt End of Cuba.

Captain Friſby, in 8 Days from St. Auguſtine, informs us, That Captain Harris, in a ſmall Sloop belonging to this Port, was lately caſt away, at a Place called Muſqueto-Inlet, about 40 Miles to the Southward of Auguſtine, and that the Veſſel was entirely loſt, but the People all ſaved. The 26*th of April, in Lat.* 35:36, Long. 67, Captain Friſby ſpoke with Capain Snow, from Boſton, bound for South-Carolina, 16 Days out, and all well.

Captain Shaw came in on Saturday laſt, in 28 Days from Bluefields, on the Muſqueto Shore, where the Revd. Mr. Poſt was ſafe arrived, with his Wife and Family, from Philadelphia.

Captain Sinclair ſailed from the Downs the 4*th of March, and on the* 7*th ult. in Lat.* 37, Long. 62, he fell in with the Brig Nancy, Capt. Service, from Glaſgow, for Virginia, in great Diſtreſs, out 7 Weeks, 3 Feet Water in her Hold, and in Company with the Ship Proſper, from Cape Fear, bound for Briſtol. The Capt. and Crew of the Nancy being determined to abandon the Brig, Part of the Cargo, with the Mate, and one of the Seamen, Captain Sinclair has brought in here, and the Remainder of the Crew, with as much of the Cargo as could be got, was put on board the Proſper, and carried to Briſtol.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.

On Monday next the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province meets here.

Captain Gilliat, from Liverpool, on the 14th of laſt Month, in Lat. 35:28, Long. 68:25, ſpoke a Ship, Captain Kelly, from Madeira for Virginia, out 8 Weeks; on the 18th, in Lat. 33:41, Long. 69:53, ſpoke a Brig from Rhode-Iſland for Jamaica, 3 Days out; and on the 23d, in Lat. 37, Long. 74, he ſpoke a Ship from Glaſgow for Virginia, out 7 Weeks, all well.

Captain Montgomery, from Glaſgow, on the 2d ult. in Lat. 24:37, Long. 53:15, ſpoke a Brig, Captain Shrewſbury, from Rhode-Iſland for Barbados, 19 Days out, all well.----4th, in Lat. 23:48, Long. 54, ſpoke a Ship, Captain Coombs, from London for South-Carolina, 33 Days out, who had carried away the Head of his Foremaſt in a hard Gale of Wind.---7th, in Lat. 24:38, Long. 57, ſpoke the Snow Dolly, Captain Maddox, from North-Carolina for Barbados, out 20 Days.----11th, in Lat. 26:56, Long. 59:30, ſpoke a Sloop, Captain Jones, from New-Haven for Antigua, 19 Days out; and on the 14th, in Lat. 29, Long. 62:30, he ſpoke a Schooner, Captain Ward, from Newberry for Barbados, out 12 Days, all well.----Captain Montgomery left Glaſgow the 9th of February, and in coming down the Firth of Clyde, met with a hard Gale of Wind, which cauſed him to put into a Harbour the next Day, where he lay till the 15th, the Gale ſtill continuing, when he parted his beſt Bower Cable, and was obliged to cut away his ſmall Bower, and put out to Sea, in order to ſave the Ship from going aſhore, which he did with much Difficulty.

Saturday laſt Captain Duncan arrived here from London, having had a diſagreeable Paſſage, with very bad Weather.----On the 7th of March, in Lat. 43:24, Long. 30:18, he carried away his Maintopmaſt, with two Men at the Head of it, who were ſtriking the Topgallant Yard, and being unable to ſwim, were both drowned, before it was poſſible to give them Aſſiſtance.---On the 18th, he met with a very hard Gale of Wind, which at Two P. M. obliged him to hand all the Sails, and ſcud under her bare Poles till Six o'Clock, when the Veſſel ſhipped a very heavy Sea, which laid her on her Beam Ends for ſome time, ſhifted her Cargoe, and waſhed a Man overboard, who was drowned. On the 30th, in Lat. 34:59, Long. 48:51, he ſpoke a Ship, Captain Peters, from Briſtol for Virginia, 35 Days out, all well.----April 11, in Lat. 34:12, Long. 56:41, ſpoke with Captain M'Caddon, in a Ship belonging to Londonderry, bound to London from South-Carolina, 10 Days out, all well.---19th, in Lat. 33:50, Long. 62:52, ſpoke the Ship Orange-Bay, Captain Sommerville, from Jamaica for London, out 25 Days, all well; and on the 25th, in Lat. 35:51, Long. 67:57, he ſpoke a Sloop from Barbados for Boſton.

Tueſday laſt the Pennſylvania Packet, Captain Falconer, arrived here from London.---On the 31ſt of March, in Lat. 35:5, he met with a moſt violent Squall, or rather Whirlwind, in which the Ship was laid down for a few Minutes, and had her Main and Foretopſail ſplit all to Pieces, as alſo ſome of her Stayſails.---On the 21ſt of April, in Lat. 32:3, Long. 61:30, he ſpoke a Brig, Captain Wells, from Maryland for Barbados, 8 Days out, all well.

By Captain Noble, from Glaſgow, we have Advice, that the Brig Peggy, Captain Spier, was to ſail from thence for this Place about the latter End of April, with whom are coming Paſſengers, the Rev. Mr. WITHERSPOON, Preſident of the New-Jerſey College, and his Family.-----Captain Noble ſailed from Glaſgow the 3d of March, in Company with the Ann, Howie; and Thiſtle, Kennedy, for Virginia.

Captain Rogerſon, from Liverpool, on the 4th ult. in Lat. 38:21, Long. 63, ſpoke a Ship from Virginia for Hull, out 13 Days;-- 23d, in Lat. 38:57, Long. 70, he ſpoke a Snow from North-Carolina for Quebec, 10 Days out;---25th, in Lat. 29:35, Long. 70:30, ſpoke a Schooner, Captain Hayes, from Tortuga for Piſcataqua; and on the 26th, in Lat. 38:51, Long. 70:35, he ſpoke a Sloop from Guadaloupe for Rhode-Iſland.

Just imported in the Unity, Captain STORY, from LONDON, and to be sold by FRANCIS HOPKINSON,
At his Store in Walnut-street, between Fourth and Fifth-streets;
CRIMSON, buff, white, green, brown, light coloured, blue and rose-coloured superfine broadcloths; blue, sky-blue, black, pearl and buff superfine cassimers, with a great variety of other colours. These last are a new-invented manufacture, designed for summer wear; being extremely light and thin, and in strength and beauty, equal to the best broadcloth; also gold wire buttons, rattinets, and all other kinds of trimmings.
As it hath been hinted that Mr. Hopkinson's cloths are not equal in quality to those generally imported, he begs leave to assure the public, that no pains or expence hath been spared in making up his assortment, and that he will warrant them to be as good in general, in their several kinds, as any that are imported from England; and as he purposes to deal in cloths only, with their trimmings, he will be careful to keep up a large assortment, and such a variety of every speices, that he flatters himself he shall be able to give satisfaction to every person that shall favour him with their custom.
As he deals for cash only, he will retail at the prices goods of the same quality are usually sold wholesale.

TO BE SOLD, by
LEVI BUDD, and JOHN LININGTON,
On their wharff, in the Northern Liberties,
A choice parcel of very fine RED CEDAR POSTS. †

JOHN GUALDO,
ACQUAINTS the public in general, and his friends in particular, that he has begun to brew SPRUCE and SASSAFRAS BEER (in the house where the late Mr. Evan Morgan lived in Water-street) and intends to sell it very cheap for ready money, or short credit, viz. at Thirty Shillings per barrel, Three Shillings per dozen, and Fourpence per bottle, barrels and bottles excluded. Very soon he will begin to brew Six-penny and Bristol beer, the former at Twenty Eight Shillings per barrel, the latter at Twelve Shillings per dozen, and engages that his beer shall keep longer than any brewed in this town; likewise has begun to distil all kinds of cordials, which he will sell very reasonable.

FOR LONDON,

The SHIP
PENNSYLVANIA PACKET,
Nathaniel Falconer,
Commander;
Having two Thirds of her Cargoe ready to go on board; is expected to sail in about two Weeks. For Freight or Passage, apply to JOSHUA FISHER and SONS, SAMUEL PLEASANTS, or said Commander. May 3, 1768.

IF WILLIAM HERRIOTT, the son of Rachel Norberry, late of Middletown, in the county of Chester, in Pennsylvania, be living, and will apply to Abraham Martin, of Aston township, or Jacob Howell, of Marcus Hook, in the said county, or at the Register's Office in the county aforesaid, he will hear of something greatly to his advantage. It is supposed the said Herriott is in some part of the Jerseys, or in New-York government. †

FIVE POUNDS Reward.
RUN away, the 24th of February last, from the plantation of the subscriber, in Charlestown township, Chester county, an Irish servant man, named William M'Clellan, about 20 years of age, a stout well set fellow, about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, fair complexion, light coloured short hair, a remarkable scar on his left eyebrow, a very trembling look with his eyes; had on, and took with him, a grey nap sailor jacket, a striped flannel under ditto, a coarse white linen shirt, old beaver hat, buckskin breeches, old shoes and stockings, and a dark brown broadcloth great coat; if in company apt to drink strong liquor to excess, and if so, apt to swear. Whoever apprehends and secures said servant in any goal, so that his master may have him again, shall be entitled to the above reward, and all reasonable charges, by applying to the subscriber, innkeeper, at the sign of the Black Horse, in Market-street, Philadelphia.
Tbctf WILLIAM GRAHAM.
N. B. Said servant has been seen about the Barracks, and several times in the city, within these few weeks past, and it is thought will change his Name, and ship himself for some other place, or go over into the Jerseys. All Masters of vessels, and others, are forbid to harbour, conceal, or carry off said servant, as they will answer the same at their peril.

GENTLEMEN,

By inſerting the incloſed into your uſeful paper, you will oblige many of your country friends, particularly, your conſtant reader,

PHILANDER.

"A PEOPLE is travelling faſt to deſtruction, when individuals conſider their intereſts as diſtinct from thoſe of the public: Such notions are fatal to their country, and to THEMSELVES: Yet many there are ſo weak and ſordid, as to aſſiſt" (and to be ſilent in ſuch a cauſe, is to aſſiſt) "thoſe whoſe projects plainly tend to the ruin of the country in which they live."---Such are the ſentiments of the excellent Farmer, whoſe ſpirited writings deſerve daily peruſal, and whoſe ſervice to his country demands the warmeſt thanks of every American.

It is a precept often inculcated in thoſe patriotic letters----to unite in the cauſe of liberty, to exert ourſelves IMMEDIATELY, vigorouſly and unanimouſly, in the moſt firm, but peaceable, manner, for obtaining relief. It is frequently urged, and proved with all the evidence of demonſtration----that the ſacred cauſe of liberty ſhould be eſpouſed by every man on every occaſion, to the utmoſt of his power;---that all DELAYS are dangerous and injurious;---that we are NOW in a ſituation as bad as in the time of the Stamp-Act;----that therefore all the prudent meaſures uſed then ſhould be uſed now. If theſe things are evident and intereſting; if theſe things are important, and abſolutely neceſſary; if childrens children, "to the ending of the world," are moſt deeply concerned; if our freedom and happineſs depend on our prudence, unanimity and vigor; if our vigilance and UNION are SUCCESS and ſafety; if our negligence and DIVISION are DISTRESS and death---What monſtrous opinions! What contemptuous ſentiments! What deſpicable thoughts muſt we form of thoſe prodigies of meanneſs, who are calm ſpectators of their country's ruin! who cannot call forth a generous reſolution in their ſtoic ſouls; who, under the powerful arguments of honor, juſtice and truth, are, notwithſtanding, unable to extend a thought beyond the narrow bounds of ſelf, and have ſuch ſordid diſpoſitions, as to triumph in their dexterity to gain a few farthings, even with the deſtruction of their country, and the loſs of their own liberty. Peace to all ſuch! May they enjoy, in its full extent, the ſatisfactory thought of having betrayed their country! By the EARL OF HALIFAX PACKET, Captain JEFFERIES, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, with the February and March Mails, we have the following Advices, viz.

MONACO, February 13.

BY the treaty of peace with Corsica, it is said, that the Genoese are to acknowledge that island to be free and independent; that the Corsicans are to evacuate Capraia in favour of the Genoese; and that the port of Bonifacio is to be in possession of the Corsicans, on condition of their making an annual payment to Genoa of 30,000 livres.

LONDON, February 25.

They write from the Hague, that a triple alliance, offensive and defensive, is now forming in the North, between the Courts of Sweden, Denmark, and Prussia.

March 1. Letters from Petersburgh, dated Jan. 28, say, "We learn from Moscow, that when M. Pharsky, Resident of the King of Prussia, presented to her Imperial Majesty lately a memorial soliciting the enlargement of the four prisoners of state, the Empress replied, That as she had not caused them to be arrested but upon solid representations, and only for the welfare of the Republic, the very same reasons obliged her to detain them; whereby there will be more safety for the Dyet, and greater hope of re-establishing the peace of the nation; instead of which, if she should consent to set them at liberty, it would rather be abandoning the state to them, than restoring them to it."

From Leghorn we hear, that seven of the Grand Duke of Tuscany's gallies are fitting out there, which are to be well manned, in order to go on an expedition against the Barbary Corsairs in the Mediterranean.

Yesterday some dispatches, said to be of very great importance, were received at the Secretary of State's office, from his Excellency Sir Henry Moore, Governor of New-York.

This morning a number of colony agents gave attendance at Lord Hillsborough's office, Whitehall, Secretary of State for the plantations, on business of consequence.

It is talked that two regiments of foot, on the Irish establishment, are soon to be embarked for North America.

A Correspondent says, that the much-talked of reconciliation between two great Personages has not yet actually taken place; but as some concessions have been lately made on both sides, there is great reason to think it will very soon be brought about.

March 3. We hear that orders are sent to Ireland relative to the number of forces which are to be forthwith added to those already on that establishment.

Yesterday a messenger with dispatches arrived at St. James's, from his Excellency Henry William Luttelton, Esq; Ambassador at the Court of Portugal.

March 5. We are informed, that the next new Parliament will meet early in the Month of May next, for the dispatch of business.

When the post left Marseilles, three Dutch transports were preparing to sail for Corsica, to bring home the French auxiliary troops.

We are informed that some very interesting advices have been received this week from North America.

March 8. They write from Warsaw, that the Marshal of the Confederacy of Grodno is retired to Rome, where he has taken the habit of a Monk, and is actually preaching to the people on the affairs of Poland, exhorting them to undertake a croisade in defence of the Catholic Religion in that kingdom.

This day the following Bills received the royal assent by a commission, previous to his Majesty's going to the House of Peers on Thursday, viz.

The Bill to raise 1,900,000l. by annuities and lottery, for the service of the present year.

The Bill to amend and render more effectual in his Majesty's dominions in America, an Act of this session, for punishing mutiny and desertion, &c.

The Bill to continue several Acts for the better encouraging the whale fishery.

The Bill for more easy and effectual recovery of the penalties and forfeitures inflicted by Acts, relating to the trade and revenues of the British colonies in America.

The Bill to encourage the trade to Newfoundland.

And also to several other public and private Bills.

March 10. Letters from Madrid advise, that the Jesuits were carried off from Peru with the same precautions as those of the same order were from the other states of his Catholick Majesty; and that there were found in their College of Quito some interesting papers concerning the revolt which happened at Madrid on Palm Sunday in 1766.

By letters from Paris an account is received of the death of the Queen of France; upon which event, it is said, that city was surrounded by the soldiery, to prevent the emigration of the manufacturers, which has usually been very great there on occasion of long mournings.

Her Majesty, who was the daughter of the late King Stanislaus of Poland, was born June 23, 1703, and married to his most Christian Majesty on September 5, 1725.

We are informed, that an English Gentleman of distinction, who arrived last Thursday from Calais, declared that he was detained there by the Governor a fortnight, and not suffered to depart, all his papers examined, and letters opened; that he dispatched an express to Paris, who returned with an order for his departure under the King's own hand, upon which he was permitted to go: But many others (among whom were three German Counts, and two English Couriers from Lord Rochford) were detained. That many conjectures were formed, and great uneasiness appeared concerning the cause of such extraordinary proceedings; but none, not even the Governor himself, could account for it. Some thought of the Clergy, others of the King; but all agreed that the death of the Queen, which was expected, could not produce such an effect.---The true cause of which was, however, waited for with great impatience.

A letter from Lancashire says, "To such a degree has faction raged here, that had all the ships in the adjoining River been men of war, and had bombarded the town, the windows and doors of every house, of both parties, could not possibly appear in a more ruinous and shattered state. But at Preston the scene is still much worse, where last week an unthinking mob (computed at about 3000) entirely demolished and levelled several good and genteel houses, together with the Popish Chapel. In other places they have broke to pieces all sorts of houshold furniture; whereby great numbers of people in that neat and beautiful town are not only reduced to the last extremity, but also several have lost their lives, and others are dangerously wounded and maimed in opposing them. Such are the dire effects of the present mode of election. On the whole, it is very difficult to guess which party in Lancaster will, at the General Election, prove victorious: At present they seem nearly on a par."

It was currently reported on Monday, that some good news was arrived over land from the East-Indies; in consequence of which the stocks rose four per cent.

They write from Petersburgh, that several ships of war are now building in the ports of Russia for the French service, where also great quantities of naval stores have been bought up to be shipped for Brest and Rochfort.

They write from Venice, that a private treaty has for some time been negotiating between the Republic and the states of Corsica.

They write from Leghorn, that the states of Corsica having refused to enter into a treaty of peace with the Algerines, several Corsairs have lately been fitted out by order of the Dey, to cruize on the coasts of that island.

We hear from Edinburgh, that great disturbances have happened in different parts of the kingdom on account of Electioneering.

We are informed, that the contest for Members to represent the City of London, will be the greatest that has been known for many years.

March 11. Yesterday his Majesty went in state to the House of Peers, and gave the Royal Assent to twenty-three public and private bills; after which his Majesty made the following most gracious Speech from the Throne:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE readiness with which you entered into the views I recommended to you at the opening of this Session, and the assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the dispatch of the public business, give me great satisfaction. At the same time, the affectionate concern you have shewn for the welfare of your fellow subjects, by the salutary laws passed for their relief in respect to the high price of provisions, cannot fail of securing to you their most grateful regard.

"I have nothing new to communicate to you in relation to foreign affairs. The apparent interests of the several Powers in Europe, as well as the express assurances I have received from them, leave me no room to doubt of their disposition to preserve the general tranquility. And, on my part, you may rest assured, that every measure that is consistent with the honour of my crown, and the rights of my subjects, shall be steadily directed to that most salutary purpose.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

"Your chearfulness in granting the necessary supplies, and your attention to the ease of my good subjects in the manner of raising them, equally demand my acknowledgments. I see, with pleasure, that you have been able to prosecute the diminution of the national debt, without laying any additional burthen upon my people.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

"As the time limited by law for the expiration of this Parliament now draws near, I have resolved forthwith to issue my proclamation for dissolving it, and for calling a new Parliament. But I cannot do this, without having first returned you my thanks, for the many signal proofs you have given of the most affectionate attachment to my person, family, and government, the most faithful attention to the public service, and the most earnest zeal for the preservation of our excellent constitution. When, by the vigorous support which you gave me during the war, I had been enabled, under the Divine Providence, to restore to my people the blessings of peace, you continued to exert yourselves, with equal alacrity and steadiness, in pursuing every measure that could contribute to the maintenance of the public safety and tranquility; which you well understood could no otherwise be preserved, than by establishing, on a respectable foundation, the strength, the credit, and the commerce of the nation. The large supplies you have from time to time granted, and the wise regulations you have made for these important purposes, will, I am perpuased, be found to have been productive of the most beneficial consequences.

"In the approaching election of representatives, I doubt not but my people will give me fresh proofs of their attachment to the true interest of their country; which I shall ever receive as the most acceptable mark of their affection to me. The welfare of all my subjects is my first object. Nothing therefore has ever given me more real concern, than to see any of them, in any part of my dominions, attempting to loosen those bonds of constitutional subordination, so essential to the welfare of the whole. But it is with much satisfaction that I now see them returning to a more just sense of what their own interest, no less than their duty, indispensibly requires of them; and thereby giving me the prospect of continuing to reign over an happy, because an united people."

After his Majesty's speech was ended, the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's command, prorogued the Parliament to the 31st instant.

In the course of last sessions, 112 public and private bills received the royal assent.

On Wednesday next at the general election for members to represent this city in Parliament, John Wilkes, Esq; intends offering himself a candidate, having purchased his freedom of this city for that purpose, in the Worshipful Company of Joiners, and paid his money, as customary, in the Chamber of London, in order to be admitted into the freedom of London next Tuesday, at a Court of Aldermen.

The gentlemen who have given one guinea for one hundred, in case Mr. Wilkes is returned for the city of London, have now insured themselves at twenty-five guineas from paying that sum; so great is the expectation of his succeeding; and we hear that a respectable Ald----n of the city intends to support his interest.

It is said to be really true that Mr. Wilkes has procured a pardon: It is no secret through what means it has been obtained: The parliamentary rolls furnish a precedent that an outlaw may be chosen a representative without a revoking of the outlawry; but as no man would chuse to be under that predicament who could avoid it, the price of Mr. Wilkes pardon was, it is said, his promise, on honour, not to stand for the neighbour city of this great metropolis.

It is also said, the letter to a great Personage was presented by the D. of N. and a permission of return was granted, upon condition that there is no personal appearance at C---t.

We are informed that many hundred Liverymen have determined to give John Wilkes, Esq; their single votes, as the only effectual means of serving him.

Fifty guineas are now given in several coffee-houses near the Change, to receive 100 when Mr. Wilkes is elected for the city of London.

March 12. The Parliament was this day dissolved by his Majesty's proclamation, which was affixed up at the usual public places; and writs for electing a new Parliament will be sent this night to all the returning officers.

A correspondent writes, "The conditions of Mr. W-----'s pardon mentioned in the daily papers, are not true; for no proposals were made, or restraints laid on him, farther than a strict compliance with his own voluntary promises." Our correspondent adds, "Though Mr. W----- may have been too incautious in some of his writings, I firmly believe, that such incaution arose merely from zeal for the honour and service of his country; and that few in this kingdom possess a larger share of real genuine patriotism than Mr. W-----."

The bets run high at the West End of the Town, that Mr. Wilkes will be returned one of the Members for the City of London.

Bristol, March 5. We hear that 200l. were lately given in a certain Borough, in the west, for 12 pair of breeches, and that 150 guineas were disdainfully refused for a groaning cheese.

BOSTON, May 2.

The late Speaker of the House of Representatives, has received a very genteel Letter from the Speaker of the House of Burgesses in Virginia, in Answer to the circular Letter of the House written in the last Session of our General Assembly, which got to Williamsburg in good Time, as their Assembly was to sit in a few Days. Their Principles of Liberty, it is said, are so well established, and the Tendency of the late Acts of Parliament imposing Duties and Taxes on the Colonies are so manifest, as to leave no Doubt but they will approve of the Measures taken, and readily concur in the Plan proposed for the Support of their Constitutional Rights. Their noble, timely and spirited Resolutions in the year 1765, so satisfactory to the People of America, afford abundant Reason for us ever to respect that province, and to speak of them in the same Terms in which the Honourable Gentleman is pleased politely to mention this, "as very vigilant and stedfast Guardians of American Rights."

NEW-YORK, May 9.

Extract of a letter from Montreal, dated April 16.

Last Monday Night, about 11 o'Clock, a Fire broke out in one of the upper Streets, about the Middle of this Town, occasioned by a lighted Candle being carried into the Stable of Monsr. Giasson: The Flames took their Course from near St. Lawrence's Gate, and went through the Provost's, Mr. Grozier's, Jacobs, and the Black Sisters Nunnery, raging with such Violence, that in about two Hours, upwards of 80 Houses were consumed, and 107 Families dislodged; and 'tis thought, had it not been for the Chateau, which was slated, and by that Means stopped the Fury of the Flames, the whole Town would have been consumed. The Loss is not yet known, but I imagine it will amount to near 25,000 l. Sterling.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.

Extract of a Letter from London, February 13, 1768.

"The Administration is now likely to remain settled for some considerable Time.----The Duke of Grafton is the Cement of the whole; and tho' he hath neither many Family Connections, nor what is still more necessary to one in his Station, many parliamentary Ones, he possesses much of the public Esteem and Confidence; and all acquiesce in his continuing to take the Lead, which is somewhat singular, as he is yet a very young Man.

"Immense Sums are daily given to secure Seats in Parliament, and it is reckoned, that not fewer than 30 or 40 Nabobs will get into the House this ensuing Election----Men who, in the East, by Rapine and Plunder, in most Cases attended with the most shocking Instances of Barbarity, have suddenly acquired immense Wealth. Such you will, perhaps, think not the most proper Guardians of our Constitution and Liberties.

"The Bill for continuing the Restraint of East-India Dividends to 10 per Cent. for one Year longer, is now past both Houses, tho' not without Opposition. Mr. D--d-sw-ll, in the Commons, proposed, with a View to protract the Matter, to refer the Examination of the Company's Affairs to a select Committee; but Lord N--th shewed so clearly the Expediency of the Bill, and the Absurdity of appealing to a Committee, in a Point wherein the House itself had already decided, that the Motion was dropt without a Division. Indeed every disinterested honest Man must see the Propriety of this Restraint; especially those who know and consider the precarious Tenor upon which they hold their territorial Revenues, which are collected by a Method that varies very little from military Execution, and in which Service our Army there are employed in the Field near nine Months in the Year. Add to this, the Difficulty of investing these Revenues (for they cannot be remitted in Specie) and of converting their Commodities into Money, when the European Markets are so glutted.---Lord Clive hath of late been extremely ill, and set out about three Weeks ago for Nice, as the only Chance he has of prolonging his Life.

"Last Monday I heard Lord North open the Budget, which he did to the general Satisfaction. It is needless to give the Particulars; but there is to be no new Taxes this Year. We lessen the National Debt a Trifle, and borrow, by a Loan, and a Lottery, £1,900,000 at three per Cent. to pay off the Remainder of the unfunded 4 per Cent. He assured us that we were, in general, in a very prosperous Condition; that the present Peace was like to be lasting; but that if, contrary to all Expectation, a fresh War should break out, Care should be taken to put the State in the best Condition possible, to exert ourselves with Glory in the Prosecution of it. Mr. Grenville, as usual, endeavoured to find Fault, but to no Purpose. His Speech was unanimated and confused, and was plainly dictated by Discontent and Disappointment, tho' he affected to say, he reckoned it an Honour to be out of Place. An Honour, however, I dare say, he would wish very soon to be stript of. In all his Speeches, he never fails to bring in North-America.----In this he observed, that after all the Expence we had incurred during the late War, in ridding them of their Enemies the French, the Protection of the Conquests we had made there, cost us annually £500,000, a Sum which, in our exhausted State, with such a Load of Debt, we were, by no Means, able to bear.

"I see the Commotions in Boston, and other Places, are not yet wholly subsided; and that some over zealous Patriots endeavour to keep up the Ball of Contention, by prompting the People to make public Resolutions against wearing our more expensive Manufactures; Resolutions in themselves by no Means blameable, nor of real Importance to the Mother Country, if they are not in a Situation to pay for them. But why all this Bustle about it, just at this Juncture, and just after the total Repeal of the Stamp-Act? I will freely give you my Opinion; which is, that nothing is to be apprehended from all this; for that the growing State of the Colonies, both as to Numbers of People, and the Extent of their Settlements, will afford an ample Field for the Consumption of all the Manufactures we can spare them (let them encourage Manufactures among themselves as much as they please) for a long Period to come. And as to their Allegiance, which some are apprehensive about here, that is secured by their natural Connection with, and strong Attachment to this Country, as well as by their Want of our Protection, without which they are not in a Condition to defend themselves against their and our common Enemies.---Am I, or am I not mistaken?"

Extract of another Letter from London, March 12, 1768.

"The Parliament was dissolved Yesterday, and every Body is now engaged in Electioneering, both in Town and Country.---Wilkes is returned once more, and having obtained his Pardon, as they say, and I am apt to believe by the Interest of the Duke of N---hu-b-rl--d, that he might not interfere with his Son Lord P-rc-y's Election for Westminster, is now a Candidate for the City of London; and the Cry of Wilkes and Liberty, is beginning to be re-echoed in our Streets. I cannot think he will by any Means succeed; yet it is impossible to say what the Majority of the Livery-men may accomplish.

"Bating the unavoidable Bustle, occasioned by the Elections, we are in a State of perfect Tranquility. No talk of the least Change in the Ministry, or any material Alteration of any Kind, or in any Department whatever. Lord Chatham remains in Statu quo.

"The King's Speech, you see, is a very good one. I heard him deliver it, which he did, as he always does, with great Propriety. He is much, and deservedly beloved; for surely there is not an honester or better natured Man in his Dominions; and if some factious Spirits do not interfere, I have no doubt but every Thing will go on very smoothly. The great Object is, the Reduction of the public Debt, and the Encouragement of every Branch of Commerce, upon which the national Credit wholly depends. I think Things seem also to be somewhat composed in America. I cannot say what People, who take a partial View of either Side of the Atlantic, may imagine; but this I am certain of, that our Prosperity and Security depend upon our Union, our firm and lasting Union, let who will say to the contrary.

"Before next Packet sails, the Elections will be mostly over. Much Money will be expended, much Riot will prevail; but there is no Help for it. It is, in some Measure, the unavoidable Consequence of our Liberty, which will every now and then run into Licentiousness.---But still, take us for all in all, we are the happiest Nation this World ever contained: And I trust in Providence, that tho' our public Affairs may now and then wear an unpromising Aspect, and unworthy Men may sometimes force themselves into Power, yet I hope, before Matters come to Extremity, the Nation will come to their Senses, and not suffer a Fabric, the Work of Ages, and the Envy of the rest of the World, to be materially injured-----.In this Hope I, for my own Part, remain, and am very happy."

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in London, to another in this City, dated February 25, 1768.

"You will doubtless be informed, long before the Receipt of this, of Lord Hillsborough being appointed Secretary of State for America. The Office is not likely to continue long, and (from the present Appearance) will be of little Use to Great-Britain or the Colonies. Several of the principal Merchants trading to Philadelphia, waited upon him a few Days ago, in order to try, if possible, to obtain his Influence for a Paper Currency. He has expressed his Sentiments positively against it; nevertheless a larger Number intend waiting on him shortly, to see what they can do; though they have little Prospect of succeeding."

On Monday laſt the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province met here; and Yeſterday adjourned to the 12th of September next.

Tueſday laſt the Honourable the JUDGES of the Supream Court ſet out for Reading, in order to hold the Courts there; and to proceed from thence to the other Counties.

From Scotland we learn, that Doctor WILLIAM SHIPPEN, junior, of this City, was unanimouſly elected a Fellow of the Royal College of Phyſicians at Edinburgh, on the Third of February laſt.

On Tueſday laſt, by order of the GOVERNOR and SOCIETY of Fort St. Davids, fourteen Gentlemen, members of that Company, waited upon J--n D--k-ns-n, Eſq; and preſented the following addreſs in a Box of HEART OF OAK.

RESPECTED SIR,

WHEN a man of abilities, prompted by love of his country, exerts them in her cauſe, and renders her the moſt eminent ſervices, not to be ſenſible of the benefits received, is STUPIDITY; not to be grateful for them, is BASENESS.

Influenced by this ſentiment, we, the Governor and Company of Fort St. Davids, who, among other inhabitants of Britiſh America, are indebted to you for your moſt excellent and generous vindication of liberties dearer to us than our lives, beg leave to return you our heartieſt thanks, and to offer you the greateſt mark of eſteem, that, as a body, it is in our power to beſtow, by admitting you, as we hereby do, a member of our ſociety.

When that deſtructive project of taxation, which your integrity and knowledge ſo ſignally contributed to baffle about two years ago, was lately renewed under a diſguiſe, ſo artfully contrived as to delude millions, YOU, Sir, watchful for the intereſts of your country, perfectly acquainted with them, and undaunted in aſſerting them, ALONE detected the monſter concealed from others by an altered appearance, expoſed it, ſtripped of its inſidious covering, in its own horrid ſhape, and, we firmly truſt, by the bleſſing of GOD on your wiſdom and virtue, will again extricate the Britiſh colonies on this continent from the cruel ſnares of oppreſſion; for we already perceive theſe colonies, ROUSED by your ſtrong and ſeaſonable call, purſuing the ſalutary meaſures adviſed by you for obtaining redreſs.

Nor is this all that you have performed for your native land. Animated by a ſacred zeal, guided by truth, and ſupported by juſtice, you have PENETRATED TO THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION, have poured the cleareſt light on the moſt important points, hitherto involved in a darkneſs bewildering even the learned, and have eſtabliſhed, with an amazing force, and plainneſs of argument, the TRUE DISTINCTIONS and GRAND PRINCIPLES, that will fully inſtruct ages yet unborn, what rights belong to them, and the beſt methods of defending them.

To merit far leſs diſtinguiſhed, ancient Greece or Rome would have decreed ſtatues and honors without number: But it is your fortune and your glory, Sir, that you live in ſuch times, and poſſeſs ſuch exalted worth, that the ENVY of thoſe, whoſe DUTY it is to applaud you, can receive no other conſolation, than by withholding thoſe praiſes in public, which all honeſt men acknowledge in private that you have deſerved.

We preſent to you, Sir, a ſmall gift of a ſociety not dignified by any legal authority: But when you conſider this gift as expreſſive of the ſincere affection of many of your fellow citizens for your perſon, and of their unlimitted approbation of the noble principles maintained in your unequalled labours, we hope this teſtimony of our ſentiments will be acceptable to you.

May that all-gracious being, which in kindneſs to theſe colonies gave your valuable life exiſtence at the critical period when it would be moſt wanted, grant it a long continuance, filled with every felicity; and when your country ſuſtains its dreadful loſs, may you enjoy the happineſs of heaven, and on earth may your memory be cheriſhed, as we doubt not it will be, to the lateſt poſterity.

Signed, by order of the Society,
JOHN BAYARD, Secretary."

The box was finely decorated, and the inſcriptions neatly done in letters of gold. On the top was repreſented the CAP OF LIBERTY on a ſpear, reſting on a cypher of the letters J. D. Underneath the cypher, in a ſemicircular label, PRO PATRIA. Around the whole the following words------

THE GIFT OF THE GOVERNOR AND SOCIETY OF FORT ST. DAVIDS, TO THE AUTHOR OF THE FARMER's LETTERS, IN GRATEFUL TESTIMONY OF THE VERY EMINENT SERVICES THEREBY RENDERED TO THIS COUNTRY. 1768.

* The name at length.

The following Extract was deſigned for laſt Week's Paper; but the letter that contained it, happened to be miſlaid.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Carliſle (Cumberland county) April 26.

"It has been reported, that the people at Conegocheague had threatened to ſtop the goods deſigned for preſents to the Indians, and had alſo threatened Mr. Croghan, if he paſſed that way; I have been up there, and can aſſure you, that both reports are entirely groundleſs, and muſt have been raiſed by evil minded perſons, to anſwer ſiniſter ends. I would further inform you, that I lately ſaw one of the gentlemen, who has been up to Redſtone Creek, to warn the ſettlers off that land, who informed me, that at their arrival, the people had a meeting, and ſeemed diſpoſed to move off, only reſolved to petition the Governor that they might have their lands again, when purchaſed of the Indians. On the day the petition was to be ſigned, eight Indians of note, belonging to a Mingo town, about 60 miles below Fort-Pitt, came there, and inſiſted that the people ſhould not move off, as the land belonged to them, and they had ſettled them there; they added, that ſomething would be talked of about that matter at the treaty ſoon to be at Fort Pitt, and then they would tell the people what they muſt do. This meſſage they ſent, with a belt of Wampum, to the governor. The people ſtill remain on the land, nor did they think proper to ſend a petition, till ſome return ſhould come to the Indians meſſage."

Captain Hutchins, from St. Chriſtophers, on the 30th ult. in Lat. 33: 30, Long. 70: 30, ſpoke a Ship, Captain Mungo Davidſon, of this Place, bound to London from Jamaica, out 26 Days; and on the 3d Inſtant, in Lat. 38, Long. 72, he ſpoke with Captain Stiles, in a Brig from this Port for Barbados, two Days out, all well in both Veſſels.

Captain Fearis, alſo from St. Chriſtophers, on the 28th ult. in Lat. 35, Long. 68, ſpoke a Schooner, from Virginia for the Weſt-Indies, but paſſing her very faſt, did not learn further Particulars; and on the Firſt Inſtant, in Lat. 37, Long. 71, he ſpoke a Ship, Captain Morriſon, from Glaſgow for Virginia, out 5 Weeks, all well.

Captain Carter, from London, on the 16th ult. in Lat. 36: 8, Long. 56: 18, ſpoke a Snow, from Liverpool for North-Carolina out 6 Weeks; on the 25th, in Lat. 37: 51, Long. 64: 50, he ſpoke a Brig, from Georgia for Cork, out 7 Days; and on the 26th, in Lat. 36: 47, Long. 65: 39, he ſpoke a Schooner from Boſton for Dominica, out 7 Days.

Captain Lightburn in a Sloop from New-York, is arrived at St. Croix; as is alſo another Sloop from New-York, formerly commanded by him.

 ADVERTISEMENTS, &c. omitted this Week, for want of Room, ſhall be inſerted next Week.

what ſhall we do with the goods now lying in our ſtores?" In the name of your injured country, how dare you ſpeak, how dare you think in ſo narrow, ſo contracted a manner? Is there, can there be for ſome years, of our own manufactures ſufficient to ſupply our wants? And ſhall we not be obliged ſo long to buy of you! Is a preſent and comparatively ſmall advantage equal to the ſcandal, the vexation, the enormous burden of ſlavery? a never-ending, ever-growing ſlavery! Is not competence with quietneſs better than abundance with oppreſſion! Is not a handful with peace better than a houſeful with an aking heart! Are not the good wiſhes, the eſteem of the living, the bleſſings of thouſands yet unborn, and the approbation of the "judge of all the earth," matters worthier the deſires of every reaſonable man, than the precarious poſſeſſion of a few pounds, of which the iron hand of bondage will ſoon ſtrip him? Shall the public ſuffer for the petty inſignificant advantage of ſome individuals? Individuals abounding in wealth and plenty! Shall we ſell our all "for as much traſh as may be graſped thus?" Will you diſappoint all the wiſhes, the prayers, the reſolutions made, entered into, and now continued, in expectation of the compliance of Philadelphia, by the very reſpectable inhabitants of Boſton, New-York, and a multitude of other towns, whoſe names will be recorded in the annals of fame with the greateſt teſtimonies of honor? Will any of you, I ſay, dare diſappoint the wiſhes, the prayers, the expectations of ſo many thouſand prudent reſpectable men? If you do, if you dare to do it for a few pence, ſhillings, and pounds, if you dare to do it for many pence, ſhillings and pounds, the curſes of thouſands await you. Hear thou, whoever thou art, that meaneſt ſuch a thing, the curſes of thouſands await thee, and thy conſcience ſhall be as a gnawing worm unto thee---Charity would perſuade me, there are none among you would harbour ſo mean a thought: Reaſon tells me, there is none can lay his hand upon his heart, and ſeriouſly ſay, "I do well in thus deſerting my country; I do well in thus preferring the ſale of a few goods to the reſtitution of their rights and privileges to my relations, friends, acquaintance, province, and to the public in general." I know, my countrymen, you do not repent of your conduct two years ago: I know you feel a generous indignation at the thought. Your judgments, I am confident, approve of your conduct at that time. Will you then contradict your judgments? and that, at a time when you have all the reaſons to aſſert your rights that you had then, and many more!----While we in the country are enquiring of our friends and neighbours, "have the merchants met! have they come to reſolutions? are they acting like Americans?" and are anſwered "not yet! not yet! but we hope they will ſoon," we are amazed, we are vexed. We long to ſee a decent and becoming zeal in defence of our rights, eſpecially when negligence will eſtabliſh a precedent for taxes and burdens for ever increaſing.---Were a cry made, your houſe is on fire! haſte! it will ſoon be in flames! If the owner anſwers, perhaps I ſhall ſcorch my hands, or ſinge my cloaths, and therefore ſhall not try to extinguiſh it, would not he be thought mad! And is not he as mad, who neglects, tho' the alarm has been ſounded from Nova-Scotia to Florida, to extinguiſh the flames of his country, now kindled, conſtantly gaining ſtrength by delay, which will ſoon rage beyond reſiſtance, and devour all before it. Now is the time for exertion; if not, when ſhall we exert ourſelves? When the chains of ſlavery are rivetted upon us! When the harpies of cuſtom-houſe-officers, of exciſe-gatherers, of ſtamp-maſters (for after a while we ſhall have enough of them too) when all the intolerable evils of arbitrary power ſhall have preyed upon our vitals, ſhall have ſnatched the refreſhing draught from the thirſty mouth, and bread, the ſupport of life, from the hungry wretch----will that be the time for exertion? That the time for exertion, when cuſtom and ſubmiſſion will have given them a fancied right to our ſubjection and ſlavery? That the time, when this fancied right will be firmly aſſerted and maintained with all the might of Britain! Alas! your caſe will then be altered. Your houſes will then be crouded with ſoldiers: Your frontiers lined with forts, under pretence of defending you. Inſtead of the reſpectable, the opulent merchants of Philadelphia, you will be but a----miſerabile vulgus!----a miſerable mob! It is well known, that in France to ſay a man is a merchant, is to give him a moſt odious character; it is to ſay---he is a rogue! And why ſhould it be otherwiſe? For a man to labour with all the induſtry and confidence of a Briton, and yet know he has a maſter, who can, when he pleaſes, take from him his all, is it not to act ſo inconſiſtently as even to make us ſuſpect him? May ſuch a ſituation be far from you, but may vigilance and caution be always with you. Upon you are centered the expectations of all Britiſh America. Upon your concurrence, your ſpeedy concurrence, depends the ſucceſs of the meaſures entered into by the northern towns. Conſider then, the importance of your reſolutions to your country, and act worthy the ſtations in which it has pleaſed GOD to place you. Conſider the happineſs or miſery of your poſterity depends upon you. By all that is dear then, we urge you, we moſt ardently beſeech you, join with New-York and Boſton. Shame us not, we intreat you: Let it not be a ſcandal to be a Philadelphian---a Pennſylvanian. Scorn all thoughts of delay. A few years more, and we ſhall not be able to buy, nor you to import. Oppreſſion will be increaſing day after day; for, you may depend upon it, the people of England will throw upon you as much of their burden as they can. UNION makes the weak STRONG, and STRENGTH makes them SAFE. To be firm and true in the righteous cauſe of one's country, can never be rebellion; it is a patriot virtue! Divide and deſtroy, is the motto of your enemies. Nobly diſappoint them: Unite in the good cauſe. Try the harmleſs experiment you did two years ago, and enſure the bleſſings of thouſands. Think of a Hampden, of a Sidney. Make it your ambition to anſwer the wiſhes, the expectations, the prayers of every lover of his country, of every ſon of liberty, of every one that deſerves the name of Philadelphia, May 4, 1768.

WHEREAS I the ſubſcriber, in April 1767, made a purchaſe of a pair of burr mill-ſtones of Joſhua Humphreys, which ſtones the ſaid J. Humphreys aſſured and ſold for very good, for which the ſubſcriber gave a bill, bearing date April 28, 1767, for Seventy Pounds, payable ſix months after date, and as the ſaid ſtones do not prove as good as they ſhould have been for that price, will appear by a certificate ſubjoined hereunto, the ſubſcriber hath taken due pains to obtain an abatement of ſaid ſum of 70 l. of ſaid J. Humphreys, but cannot obtain it, although this day hath ſought that the matter might be left to any reputable perſons: Therefore, he is under the diſagreeable neceſſity of forewarning all and every perſon from taking an aſſignment on the ſaid bill, as he thinks not to pay any more on it, having paid 60 l. and ſix months intereſt, yeſterday. ISAAC DUSHANE.

We the ſubſcribers being called upon, by Iſaac Duſhane, to teſtify concerning a certain pair of burr mill-ſtones, bought by ſaid I. Duſhane of Joſhua Humphreys, in April paſt, and our teſtimony is this, That the runner or upper ſtone of ſaid pair, is by much too ſoft, and ſcarce fit for merchants work, and with great difficulty will be kept in good face, by reaſon of unequal temper, and therefore not worth more than half the price that it otherwiſe would; and, ſhould we be called upon hereafter, in a more ſolemn manner, on this matter, ſhall ſupport the above teſtimony. SAMUEL MILES, ALEXANDER PORTER, BENJAMIM HUDSON, millers; JOSEPH ASPRIL, mill-wright. ¶

FORTY SHILLINGS Reward.

WHEREAS a certain Catherine Murray did, on the 5th day of April laſt, come to the houſe of a ſettler in the townſhip of Williſtown, Cheſter county, requeſting that night's lodging; which being granted, ſhe, the ſaid Catherine, did, ſome time in the night, make her eſcape, leaving behind her a child about two or three months old; ſhe is a middle ſized woman, ſuppoſed to be between 30 and 40 years of age; had on when ſhe went away, a ſhort callico gown, an old black ſilk whalebone bonnet, old ſhoes and ſtockings, but perhaps may change her dreſs, as ſhe was ſome time afterwards ſeen at Reading, and had then on a ſtriped gown, ſhe enquired the way from thence to Lancaſter, and is ſuppoſed to have taken that road. Any perſon apprehending and ſecuring ſaid Murray, in any goal within this province, and giving notice thereof to the overſeers of the poor of the ſaid townſhip, ſo as ſhe may be had again, in order to be by them brought to an examination, ſhall receive the above reward; and if brought back, and delivered up to any of the overſeers aforeſaid, ſhall receive the ſame, and all reaſonable charges, paid by

* PHINEHAS HIBBERD, Overſeer.

PHILADELPHIA.

The following anſwer was returned to the addreſs of the GOVERNOR and SOCIETY of Fort St. Davids, inſerted in our laſt.

GENTLEMEN,

I VERY gratefully receive the favour you have been pleaſed to beſtow upon me, in admitting me a member of your company, and I return you my heartieſt thanks for your kindneſs.

The "eſteem" of worthy fellow citizens is a treaſure of the greateſt price; and as no man can more highly value it than I do, your ſociety, in "expreſſing the affection" of ſo many reſpectable perſons for me, affords me the ſincereſt pleaſure.

Nor will this pleaſure be leſſened by reflecting, that you may have regarded with a generous partiality my attempts to promote the welfare of our country; for the warmth of your praiſes in commending a conduct you ſuppoſe to deſerve them, gives worth to theſe praiſes, by proving your merit, while you attribute merit to another.

Your characters, Gentlemen, did not need this evidence to convince me, how much I ought to prize your "eſteem," or how much you deſerved mine.

I think myſelf extremely fortunate, in having obtained your favourable opinion, which I ſhall conſtantly and carefully endeavor to preſerve.

I moſt heartily wiſh you every kind of happineſs, and particularly that you may enjoy the comfortable proſpect of tranſmitting to your poſterity thoſe "liberties dearer to you than your lives," which GOD gave to you, and which no inferior power has a right to take away.

On the DEATH of BENJAMIN TROTTER.

IF Sion may for earthly Loſſes mourn,
Or look with Sorrow on a Prophet's Urn,
She guiltleſs now may utter a Complaint,
In falling Tears, for this departed Saint.
In Love with CHRIST, he ſhone in Bloom of Youth,
A public living Miniſter of Truth,
Thro' Life 'till Death the narrow Paſſage * trod,
His Eye on JESUS, and his Truſt in GOD,
Shunn'd ev'ry Act that brings a Chriſtian Blame,
Lov'd ev'ry Virtue that adorns the Name.
For one ſo lov'd, ſo honor'd, and ſo dear,
Sion may pay the Tribute of a Tear;
But as ſhe mourns, let her be ſure to ſay,
The Lord who gave, had Right to take away.

NEW-LONDON (in Connecticut) April 15.

A Letter from the Merchants of the town of Norwich, to the ingenious Author of certain patriotic Letters, ſubſcribed a FARMER.

MUCH ESTEEMED SIR,

FROM an anxious concern for the happineſs of our country, glowing with the warmeſt effuſions of a grateful heart, the Merchants of the town of Norwich, beg leave to addreſs you, and depoſit this teſtimony of their friendſhip for ſo wiſe and ſo virtuous a benefactor.

When death ſeemed ſo ready as to leave but a fearful hope of ſafety, your kind work revived our drooping ſpirits, and, we may ſay it with the voice of all, SAVED a ſinking land.

The juſtneſs of your thoughts, the plainneſs and energy of your ſtile, animated by the noble, the exalted ſpirit which breathes through the whole of your letters, all join to make us admire the greatneſs of your mind, whilſt we extol the unbounded goodneſs of your heart.

POSTERITY, who muſt reap the fruits of your toil in the fields of freedom, will raiſe in every boſom an altar to your memory: The numerous herd; the bending harveſt; the buſy ſtreet; the ſwelling ſail; the peaceful ſhade; the ſocial fireſide; and all the various pleaſures of the year, ſhall hand thy name to ages yet unborn.

Forgive us, dear Sir, if we intreat you ſtill to bleſs us with your watchful care; and O! may you live, LONG LIVE,----that future infancy may be taught by thee."

At a Meeting of the Freemen of the town of Lebanon, in this Colony, April 11, 1768, the following Letter was reported, viz.

SIR,

THE Freemen of this Town, intereſted in, and ſenſibly affected with the calamity and diſtreſs to which they, in common with their American brethren, are, and muſt be ſubjected, by the operation and conſequences of ſeveral acts of the Britiſh parliament, impoſing various duties, &c. whereby their property is to be taken from them, and applied without their conſent, FOR THE EXPRESS PURPOSE OF RAISING A REVENUE TO THE CROWN, have ſeen, with ſenſible pleaſure, your generous efforts in the glorious cauſe of endangered liberty; wherein, with clear knowledge, and ſolid argument, you have vindicated the rights of America, demonſtrated that any attempts to deprive her of them, are inconſiſtent with the genuine ſpirit of the Britiſh conſtitution, and equally impolitic and injurious; wherein, with PENETRATING SAGACITY, and CERTAIN PRESCIENCE, you have warned her of the infinite danger of an indolent acquieſcence in principles which, extended to their genuine length, will end in the total ſubverſion of her conſtitutional freedom, and an utter alienation of thoſe kind affections, which, but for hard and unequal meaſures, would laſt for ever, equally ſtrong, and mutually beneficial to this and the mother country; with juſt and perſuaſive eloquence have YOU ſtrengthened the hands, and encouraged the further needful exertions of the generous multitude, engaged in that noble cauſe, aſſerted its righteouſneſs, and pointed out the BEST, and, we truſt, SURE means of obtaining redreſs, while juſtice and candor are partners of the Britiſh Throne; but whether they ſucceed or not, your excellent and judicious letters exhibit the true intereſt, and only remaining policy of theſe colonies, to ſo clear and conſpicuous a view, that they cannot fail to reap important advantage from your prudent and wiſe inſtructions.

Permit us, therefore, reſpected Sir, AMIDST APPLAUDING MILLIONS, to pay you the ſmall tribute of our warmeſt thanks for your generous and truly patriotic labours, to penetrate the veil of your modeſt retirement, and congratulate you as ONE BORN FOR THE MOST NOBLE AND EXALTED PURPOSE, and as having erected a monument which will laſt when thoſe of marble and braſs are mouldered to duſt, and tranſmit a grateful remembrance of the FARMER to lateſt poſterity.

THE foregoing letter was UNANIMOUSLY accepted by the Freemen of ſaid Town, and ordered to be publiſhed.

Atteſt. W. WILLIAMS, Town-Clerk.

To Meſſieurs HALL and SELLERS.

GENTLEMEN,

The following little BAGATELLE was written during a Receſs in the Country, in the Spring of the Year 1766. If you have nothing more ſuitable to the Seaſon, (as the Phraſe is) you will perhaps ſlip it into a Corner of your Paper, in Honor of the charming Month, which is the Subject.

SONG.

I.

THE bluſhing MAY, fair vernal Queen,
With FLORA in her Train,
Comes ſmiling o'er the daſied Green,
And paints the purple Plain.

II.

Wak'd by the balmy Zephyr-Sighs,
The feather'd Poets ſing;
Haſte then my Love, my Delia riſe,
We'll crop the Sweets of SPRING.

III.

Bright-riſing thro' a ſilver Cloud,
The roſy Morn appears;
Pale Night withdraws her ſable Shroud,
That's ſprinkled o'er with Tears.

IV.

Come then my Delia, come my Fair,
And quit the buſy Throng;
Yon artleſs Thruſh, high-perch'd in Air,
Invites thee with his Song.

V.

In C----brook's Woods, where now I ſtray,
Or P---ttſgrove's poliſh'd Vale,
Ye Gods! how ſweet at riſing Day,
To drink the dewy Gale.

VI.

My Delia comes! prepare ye Bow'rs,
Ye Grots, and ſylvan Streams!
Attend her Walks, Arcadian Pow'rs,
And whiſper pleaſing Dreams.

IMPORTED by

ROBERT BASS, Apothecary,

In Market-ſtreet, in the Pennſylvania Packet, Captain Falconer, from London, a general aſſortment of European, Eaſt and Weſt India Drugs, which, with pleaſure, he offers to the careful practitioner's prudent examination. Among a number of uſeful family articles, are the following;

A PARCEL of very fine magneſia, ſo deſervedly in eſteem for pains and accidents in the ſtomach of grown perſons, and for the gripes and belly-ach in children; tranſparent Baltic iſinglaſs for the niceſt purpoſes of fining Liquors, genuine hartſhorn ſhavings for making jellies; Eaſt-India ſago and ſalop, ſo well adapted for weak and tender ſtomachs, when the fineſt bread and flour, and all other diet, will not agree; orange-flower water, of fine flavour, in pint bottles; Engliſh white ſugar candy and white wax, pearl barley, gum Arabic, cochineal; Engliſh ſaffron, the beſt and only kind of any efficacy in a ſmall doſe; the fineſt ſallad or olive oil in flaſks, quart and pint bottles, &c.

The favourite and much eſteemed phyſic of the French, called Sel-de-ſeignet, or Rochelle ſalt, which, diſſolved in milk, or weak broth, is a mild, efficacious, and almoſt taſteleſs purge, ſuitable for old or young that nauſeate medicine.

Patent medicines of moſt kinds, particularly a few bottles of genuine Beaume de Vie; moſt of the neat and elegant preparations of Dr. Hill, viz. Elixir bardana for the gout and rheumatiſm, balſam of honey for colds, coughs and aſthmas, eſſence of water-dock for the ſcurvy and leproſy, tincture of centaury to give an appetite, tincture of ſage to lengthen life, tincture of valerian for nervous diſorders, and tincture of ſpleen-water for the hip.

Turner's reviving æther for the head-ach, Greenough's tincture for the teeth and gums, Juniper's eſſence of pepper mint, Walker's Jeſuits drops, &c.

A variety of ſmelling bottles in caſes, a few vials of elegant eau de luce; court plaiſter, lip ſalve, teeth powder, with proper bruſhes; Goldbeater's ſkin, iſſue plaiſter, &c. &c.

Genuine ſyrup of capillair and orgeat, a ſpoonful of which, mixed in a tumbler of water, makes a cordial, balſamic and cooling beverage; boxes of pectoral lozenges, ſo very pleaſant and agreeable in allaying uneaſy tickling coughs; boxes of hyſteric or gum pills, a medicine of more real uſe than here's room to mention; cephalic ſnuff, wine bitters, &c.

Apothecaries neat blue and white ſhop pots; chryſtal glaſſes, with braſs caps and ground ſtoppers, of moſt ſizes, plain or painted; mortars, ſieves, ſcales and weights, with many other neceſſaries and utenſils for the fixing of young beginners.

A few ſetts of ſurgeons inſtruments, which the importer will ſell cheap, or all together at firſt coſt, they being the laſt he intends to ſend for.

The importer begs leave to aſſure the public, that, from the variety and ſtock of drugs now in his poſſeſſion, he will prepare neater and better medicines than are, at any time, made in London, for American exportation; and will regularly compound them from the laſt reform of the London college of phyſicians, which is ordered and enjoined by his Majeſty and council, to all apothecaries, to be ſtrictly followed, on pain of ſevere penalties to the contrary.

As every thing now imported is from one of the firſt houſes in London, and at caſh prices, they will be ſold, upon honour, at a very moderate advance.

Practitioners preſcriptions, and family receipts, diſpenſed and compounded in a proper manner.

Medicine ſea-boxes, on a long approved plan, compleated at a proper notice, of any price.

Wanted, when in ſeaſon, a large quantity of freſh blown damaſk roſes, for which a good price will be given; and for every other country produce of the drug kind, in preſent uſe.

THE RICHMOND MEADOW COMPANY, are deſired to meet at the Court-Houſe in this City, the firſt Monday, being the 6th of June, at 3 o' Clock in the Afternoon, to chooſe Managers, and a Treaſurer, for the enſuing Year. Philadelphia, May 11, 1768.

A COMMISSION of bankruptcy having been awarded and iſſued againſt JOHN RELFE, of this city of Philadelphia Merchant, now in London,---All perſons who are indebted unto the ſaid bankrupt's eſtate, or have any effects belonging to him in their Cuſtody or Poſſeſſion, are deſired to pay or deliver the ſame to Meſſieurs Richard Neave, Peter Hodgſon, and Samuel Gardiner, of London, Merchants, the aſſignees duly choſen under the ſaid commiſſion, or to James Tilghman, Eſq; of Philadelphia, and Joſeph Wharton, junior, of the ſame place, Merchant, who are appointed by the ſaid aſſignees for that purpoſe, and to no other perſon or perſons whatſoever.

N. B. The ſaid John Relfe is found a bankrupt from the 20th of December, 1767.

WE are assured that the French troops are making dispositions for evacuating Corsica, on account of the late accommodation between the Genoese and Corsicans.

Warsaw, Feb. 10. It is said that the Dyet has several points to discuss relative to Religion. It is even pretended that it will not be insisted upon for the future that the King, who is elected in a free Assembly, should be of the Roman Catholic Religion. The return of a courier sent to a certain Power will clear up this report.

Dublin, Feb. 16. On Friday the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Commons, waited upon his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, with an address of thanks for his Excellency's successful endeavours in procuring the return of the Bill for limiting the duration of Parliaments in this kingdom.

On Saturday the Guild of Merchants, Dublin, waited on his Excellency, with their address of thanks on the same occasion.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant was this day attended to the House of Peers, to give the royal assent to the bill for limiting the duration of parliaments, by the Earl of Mornington and Lord Viscount Mountmorris; upon his Excellency's return to the Castle, after giving the royal assent to the Octennial Bill, the populace to shew their respect, gratitude, and affection to his Excellency, by means of cords, covered with scarlet cloth, and fastened to his Excellency's carriage, partly drew it along, notwithstanding the horses were to it as usual.

LONDON.

Feb. 20. A humane member of a great assembly, we hear, intends bringing in a bill to prohibit under severe penalties all brutal diversions, such as cock-fighting, bull-bating, &c. &c. for the future.

Letters from Dublin inform, that the day after the bill for limiting the duration of Parliaments in that kingdom arrived there, and its success was made known, a prodigious number of persons waited on his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, to express their satisfaction on the occasion; the bells were set a ringing throughout the city, and the evening was concluded with illuminations, bonfires, and other demonstrations of joy.

A bett of one thousand guineas was actually made this week, that there would be at least fifty Nabobs (as the gentlemen who have made their fortunes in the East-Indies are now pleasantly, and perhaps not unemphatically, called) elected and admitted members of the next ensuing Parliament.

They write from Leghorn, that a corsair of Tunis had taken a vessel with a number of Jesuits on board, in the Mediterranean, and carried seventy of those Fathers into slavery.

They write from Paris, that a man of war is fitting out at Brest, to be accompanied with several transports with colonists for the Malouine islands, and the commander has orders to touch at Patagonia, and bring over, if possible, one or more of the gigantick inhabitants.

We learn from Venice, that the government has forbidden the receiving any Religious, of whatsoever Order, into that city, without the permission and approbation of the government.

Feb. 23. Letters from Warsaw advise, that there are to be no more Nuncios from the Pope admitted in Poland, and that all the ecclesiastical affairs which used to come under their jurisdiction, will for the future be decided by the Prince Primate.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, February 13.

"The Hon. House of Commons, on Wednesday last, waited upon his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, with a most dutiful address to his Majesty, and the folllowing address to his Excellency.

"May it please your Excellency,

"WE his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, think it incumbent on us, to testify to your Excellency, our grateful sense of your Excellency's effectual endeavours in favour of the bill for limiting the duration of Parliaments in this kingdom.

"It is with the highest satisfaction we reflect, that the auspicious reign of our patriot Sovereign, has been distinguished by the return of a bill so essential to the constitution, and to the advancement of the protestant religion in this country; and we congratulate your Excellency upon an event which must add lustre to your administration, and remain as a monument to posterity, of the disinterestedness and independency of this house."

Feb. 19. The following is his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's answer to the Address of the House of Commons, on the return of the Octennial Bill.

"Gentlemen, I return you my most sincere thanks for this kind and honourable address, and am extremely happy, that my endeavours with his Majesty, in favour of the bill for limiting the duration of Parliaments in this kingdom, have proved effectual and satisfactory to you; and I do not doubt, but that this single instance of his Majesty's gracious compliance with the wishes of his faithful commons, will, on all occasions, meet with that zeal and gratitude which his paternal goodness deserves."

The merchants of Aberdeen, Glasgow, Montrose and Leith, in Scotland, have taken up numbers of large ships this season for the Greenland whale fishery.

Yesterday four causes were tried at Guildhall, London, by special juries, before Sir Eardley Wilmot, Knt. in the Court of Common Pleas, wherein several Merchants were plaintiffs, and a late Governor of Quebec was defendant, for recovering divers sums of money levied by way of duties upon spirits imported there, when verdicts were given for the several plaintiffs for all such duties as had been imposed over and above the French duties, together with damages and costs of suit.

Some letters from Leghorn mention, that two of the principal Jesuits in Corsica, accused of being secret agents for Genoa, had lately been arrested by order of Paschal de Paoli, which it was apprehended would soon occasion the total expulsion of their order from that island.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, December 14.

The following is the Address of our House of Commons to his Majesty, on the occasion of the Octennial Bill.

"Most Gracious Sovereign,

"We your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, beseech your Majesty to accept our unfeigned and grateful acknowledgments, for the condescension which your Majesty has so signally manifested to your subjects of this kingdom, in returning the Bill for limiting the duration of Parliaments; which we consider not only as a gracious mark of paternal benevolence, but as the wise result of royal deliberation."

"The Octennial Bill for limiting the duration of Parliaments in this kingdom, so ardently wished for, passed the House of Lords last night; there were 54 for the Bill, and 3 against it. Above five thousand people attended on College Green, and when the Duke of Leinster went into his chair, in order to return home, the populace insisted on carrying him in it on their shoulders, which they did, amidst the acclamations of many hundred spectators; they also attended the Lord Chancellor, and Dr. Lucas, home to their houses; those that went with the latter, had a great number of lighted flambeaux. This day our worthy Lord Lieutenant (whose conduct may ever be an example to future Viceroys!) went to Parliament, and passed the above Bill; there was the greatest concourse of people ever remembered, and many of the populace attempted to draw his coach. Addresses from all our Corporations, &c. are preparing to be presented to him: The City of Dublin propose to have his picture put up in the Tholsel. At this hour the City is illuminated, and fireworks playing off in College Green, Weavers-square, &c."

March 1. The Pope has signified to the King of Poland, in the plainest terms, that he will run the risque of losing the celestial crown, if he consents to the liberties which there is a talk of granting to the Dissidents.

Some letters from Paris mention, that the Merchants of Marseilles, Dunkirk, Brest, Rochelle, and other capital sea ports in France, had offered to subscribe large sums of money for the service of his Most Christian Majesty, to lay open the trade to the East-Indies; which it was thought would be granted.

They write from St. John's, Newfoundland, that two French polacres, which had remained in a bay near Cape Bonavista, with intent to winter in the Island, had been discovered by one of his Majesty's sloops of war, and both of them condemned at Placentia.

March 3. According to letters from Madrid, two Jesuits, disguised in the habit of merchants, had been seized at midnight at an inn there, on whom were found bills of exchange on bankers at Rome and Genoa, to the amount of two hundred thousand sequins.

March 8. We hear that many officers of distinction are preparing to set out for Germany, to be present at the King of Prussia's grand review, which is to be the beginning of May next.

A magnificent Cenotaph is erecting by Sir William Draper, in his garden at Clifton, in honour of the late 79th Regiment, of which he was Colonel during the last war, with the following Inscription.

"This Cenotaph is sacred to the Virtues and Memories of those departed Warriors of his Majesty's 79th Regiment; by whose excellent conduct, cool, deliberate valour, steady discipline, and perseverance, the formidable and impetuous efforts of the French land forces in India were first withstood and repulsed, our own settlements rescued from impending destruction, those of our enemies finally reduced.

"The ever-memorable defence of Madras, the decisive battle of Wandewash, twelve strong and important fortresses, three superb capitals, Arcot, Pondicherry, Manilla, and the Philippine Islands, are witnesses of their irresistable bravery, consummate abilities, unexampled humanity: Such were the men of this victorious regiment, and by such as these their surviving companions, the conquests and glory of our Sovereign, the renown and Majesty of the British Empire were extended to the remotest parts of Asia.

"Such were their exploits, that would have done honour even to the Greek or Roman Name, in the most favourite times of Antiquity; and well deserve to be transmitted down to the latest posterity, and held in esteem and admiration, as long as true Fortitude, Valour, Discipline, and Humanity, shall have any place in Britain.

"Three Field Officers, ten Captains, thirteen Lieutenants, five Ensigns, three Surgeons, and 1000 private men, belonging to this Regiment, fell in the course of the late War."

Letters from Rome of the 29th ult. mention, that the Pope expresses much dissatisfaction at the behaviour of most of the Roman Catholic Powers in Europe, who have of late, of their own authority, abridged the privileges of some of the Clergy, and expelled others from their states; but what greatly adds to the uneasiness of his Holiness, is, the great disregard paid to the Mandates of the Holy See by the Roman Catholic Powers in general.

It is said that this morning a packet with dispatches was received at the Secretary of State's Office, from the Earl of Rochford at Paris.

We are informed, that there is now living at Abby Landercost, in Cumberland, one Jane Forester, who is in the 138th year of her age. She hath a daughter living, aged 103.

A letter from Parma, dated February 10, says, "In the night between the 7th and 8th instant all the Jesuits in the dominions of the Infant were expelled at the same hour, and the whole was executed with the greatest tranquility by the wise dispositions concerted by the Ministry. A magistrate was sent to each house belonging to those Fathers, to signify to them the orders of the Infant, which were executed with all possible humanity. On the 8th inst. in the morning the Pragmatic Sanction, published by the Infant upon this occasion, was stuck up in all the public places in this city. His Royal Highness has appointed other Fathers to take the management and instruction of the youth in the public schools and colleges within his dominions, by which means the places which were filled by the Jesuits, were supplied immediately upon their departure."

Extract of a letter from Preston in Lancashire, February 21.

"The contest here is attended with imminent danger. I escaped with many friends, out of town on Thursday. As ----'s party had their mob from different parts of the country, they attacked our house, where Sir F-----, myself, and about 20 friends, were met; after a vigorous resistance, we were obliged to quit it, and make our escape over a wall: The house was immediately plundered and destroyed. Mr. W-----'s, Mr. M----, the M-----'s, and upwards of 20 others, underwent the same fate. The country is now up in arms. As the town is abandoned by our men, the general cry of our opponents is, Leave not a Freeman alive. God knows where this will end. I think to night or to morrow may be fatal to many. This is shocking work in a civilized country, especially when I tell you the cause to us is unknown."

The Sardoine man of war, Captain Hawker, from South-Carolina, is arrived in the river.

Letters from Geneva, of the 4th instant, say, that it is difficult to foresee when the pacification of the Republic will be effectuated, as the sentiments of the Great and Lesser Councils differ much more than those of the citizens and representing burghers.

Letters from Paris, dated Feb. 12, advise, that a printed speech hath just made its appearance there, which was pronounced by the Advocate General to the Parliament of Dijon, at the opening of the sessions, on the present state of their jurisprudence. The speaker demonstrates the inconveniences of the diversity of customs and laws in France, where there are 85 different codes; and how advantageous it would be to have only one custom, 1 weight, 1 measure, and 1 general and uniform code.

We hear from Guernsey, that the French are making extraordinary preparations in all their ports, to fit out a large number of ships for the Newfoundland Cod Fishery.

March 9. A letter from Paris, dated Feb. 19, says, "It is assured that the Count de St. Germain quitted the service of the Court of Denmark, for no other reason but because he found that his Danish Majesty had entered into a treaty with the Czarina and the King of Prussia; declaring that he could not on any occasion bear arms against France, his native country; in consequence of which laudable resolution the King of Denmark not only permitted him to resign, but granted him a pension of 60,000 livres, as a testimony of his satisfaction."

They write from the Hague, that Sir Joseph Yorke, the British Ambassador there, was honoured with the company of the Prince Stadtholder and the Princess Royal, at a superb entertainment and ball given at his house on the 26th ult.

Yesterday the Marquis of Granby, and some other officers of distinction, waited on his Majesty at St. James's.

Some letters from Brest mention, that a frigate of war had just arrived there with some of the gigantick natives of Patagonia on board, from South America.

A few days ago two frigates of thirty-six guns, Genoese built, arrived at Rochfort, for the service of France, and more of the same rate are building at Genoa, to be sent to Toulon.

March 10. The drawing of the Lottery for this year, is to begin on the 14th of November, which is three days sooner than ever known, all the subscription money being paid in.

Yesterday James Samson was committed to the New Prison by Sir John Fielding, being charged on oath, and on his own confession, with having taken out of the house of the Right Hon. General Conway, one Bank Note, value 500l. four of 100l. each, and one of 25l. and also of having intentionally set fire to the writing-table out of which the said notes were taken. It appeared on his examination, that he concealed himself in the General's house on Tuesday night, and when the family were all in bed, perpetrated the horrid act. Great part of the notes were found in his lodgings; and he declared no person whatever was concerned with him, or privy to the transaction.

The Venetians have concluded a treaty of peace and commerce with the Emperor of Morocco. Their negotiations with the Algerines have hitherto been unsuccessful; the Dey having insisted on 30,000 sequins, (about 15,000 l. sterling) which was positively refused on the part of the Republic, who will agree for the payment of no more than 10,000 sequins.

Yesterday afternoon at a very numerous and respectable meeting, at the Half Moon in Cheapside, of the Livery and Traders of this City, it was unanimously agreed to exert themselves in support of Mr. Alderman Trecothick at the ensuing election; after which the Alderman addressed them in the following terms.

"Gentlemen,

"So numerous an appearance of persons of worth in my favour, impresses me with the strongest sentiments of gratitude, and with the highest hope of success.

"The present situation of my pretensions, and the steps still to be taken, have been stated to you with so much precision by the Gentlemen who have done me the honour of speaking to those points, that nothing remains for me to add on the subject.

"Indulge me, however, Gentlemen, one moment in repeating my assurances, that my present pursuit is unattended with lucrative views; that it is my ardent wish to exert my best endeavours in support of the Manufactures and Trade of this great City in particular, and of the kingdom in general; that it is my fixed purpose to continue assiduously the discharge of every duty of my present station; and, in case of success, to express my gratitude for the additional honour conferred upon me, in the manner best suited to your virtuous intentions, by preserving sacredly my independence; by a close attention to the business of Parliament; and by the strictest attention to every object which may affect this corporation, or tend to secure and enlarge (those principal sources of its prosperity) manufactures, and commerce."

It is said, that his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland will soon set out on a visit to the Courts of Denmark and Brunswick.

It is said that the mode of process in a certain affair will be altered, and that it will be tried at the King's Bench, instead of the assizes for the county wherein the fact is said to have been committed.

March 12. Greatly to the honour of all the companies, or as they are there called, corporations of Dublin, they have resolved not to put any of their candidates to the least expence at their ensuing general election.

A letter from Cassel, dated Feb. 26, says, "In this Landgraviate, as well as in Saxony and Hanover, all the inhabitants, without distinction, have left off the use of Coffee for that of burnt Rye. Every one finds his health better, either from imagination, or from the real effect of this beverage. According to authentic information from Hanover, the importation of coffee-berries into that country, to the pejudice of the health of its inhabitants, has occasioned a loss of 75 to 80,000 rixdollars, which were annually sent to foreign countries."

They write from Leghorn, that General Paoli has established a foundery for large cannon, mortars, bomb-shells, &c. at Fornali, in the Gulph of St. Fiorenzo, whither iron is to be imported from Sweden and Russia.

To the worthy Liverymen of the City of LONDON.

Gentlemen, and Fellow Citizens,

IN Deference to the Opinion of some very respectable Friends, I presume to offer myself a Candidate for my native City of London, at the ensuing general Election. The Approbation you have been pleased on several Occasions to express of my Conduct, induces me to hope that the Address I have now the honour of making to you, will not be unfavourably received.

The chief Merit with you, Gentlemen, I know to be a sacred Love of Liberty, and of those generous Principles, which at first gave, and have since secured to this Nation, the great Charter of Freedom. I will yield to none of my Countrymen in this noble Zeal, which has always characterized Englishmen. I may appeal to my whole Conduct, both in and out of Parliament, for the Demonstration that such principles are deeply rooted in my Heart, and that I have steadily pursued the interests of my Country, without regard to the powerful Enemies I created, or the manifest Dangers in which I must thence necessarily be involved, and that I have fulfilled the Duties of a good Subject.

The two important Questions of Public Liberty, respecting General Warrants, and the Seizure of Papers, may perhaps place me among those who have deserved well of Mankind, by an undaunted Firmness, Perseverance, and Probity: These are the Virtues, which your Ancestors never failed to exert in the same national Cause of Liberty, and the World will see renewed in their Descendants on every great Call of Freedom and our Country.

The Nature and Dignity of the Trust, Gentlemen, which I now sollicit, strike me very forcibly. I feel the warmest Zeal for your interests, and Affection for your Service. I am conscious how unequal my Abilities are; yet Fidelity and Integrity shall in some Measure compensate that Deficiency, and I will endeavour, through Life, to merit the Continuance of your Approbation, the most precious Reward to which I aspire. If I am honoured with so near a Relation to you, it will be my Ambition to be useful, to dedicate myself to your Service, and to discharge, with Spirit and Assiduity, the various and important Duties of the distinguished Station in which I may be placed, by the Favour of you, Gentlemen, the Livery of London. I am, with the utmost Respect,

GENTLEMEN,

London, Mar. 10, 1768. Your most faithful, and obedient humble Servant,

JOHN WILKES.

NEW-LONDON, May 6.

On Wednesday arrived in this Town, from his Seat at Johnson-Hall, Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, Baronet.

NEWPORT (Rhode-Island) May 9.

At the general Election held in this Town, on Wednesday last, the Hon. Josias Lyndon, Esq; was chosen Governor, and the Hon. Nicholas Cooke, Esq; Deputy-governor of this Colony.

On Tuesday Night, between 11 and 12 o'Clock, as Mr. Henry Sparker, Shoe-maker, of this Town, and Mr. Philip Dexter, of Providence, being in Company with some of the People belonging to his Majesty's Sloop Senegal, now in this Harbour, commanded by Captain Cookson; a Difference happened between them, which ended in a very tragical Manner; Sparker being run almost through the Body with a Sword, as it is supposed, by which he died in about an Hour after; and Dexter received a Stab in his Right Side, and had his Head very much cut and mangled, by which his Life is still in danger. The Senegal's Men concerned in this unhappy Affair, are Mr. Robert Young, Mate, Mr. Thomas Careless, and Mr. Charles John Marshall, Midshipmen; who are now confined in his Majesty's Goal in this Town, and are to have their Trial on the first Monday in June next. As yet, it seems to be a little uncertain who were the first Aggressors in this melancholy Event, the Particulars must therefore be deferred till after the Trial.

NEW-YORK, May 16.

Extract from a Letter dated Turks-Island, March 23, 1768, from the Master of a Vessel belonging to this Port, to the Owner.

"This serves to acquaint you of my safe Arrival here from Saltertuda, after staying there 41 Days for nothing. His Majesty's Ship the Scarborough, commanded by Capt. Robert Gregory, arrived at Saltertuda the 3d Instant (March) and on Monday the 7th, the Brig Thomas was boarded by the Cutter and Pinnace, double manned, and armed, which took 453 Bags of Salt out of the Brig, and then went and took all the Salt from every Vessel at the Place (that did not belong to his own Fleet.) He also took all the Salt we had raked the second raking, which I believe was about 800 Bushels.---To-morrow I shall make a Protest (the Governor being not now at home) and send it from North-Carolina. I propose to sail To-morrow Evening, as here is no Prospect of getting any Salt for three Weeks to come, and then uncertain, for one Shower of Rain would carry it all off."

Captain Sterry, James Alger, Capt. Sherman, Jos. Kinnicut (Captain Freeborn made his Escape) of Rhode-Island, from on board their Vessels and from the Pond.

Thomas Goodwin, of Hartford, Connecticut, from Ditto.

Captain Riker, Captain Gregory, of Piscataqua, from Ditto.

The following had their Salt taken only from the Pond.

Capt. Middleton, Lyburn, Bethel, Tucker, Young, Priddon, and Williams, of Bermuda.

We are informed, that on Tuesday last, a Soldier under Confinement, and sentenced to be whipped, having found Means to procure a Musket, which he loaded with two Balls, applied the Muzzle to his Breast, and fired it with his Foot; but in leaning back to do it, or perhaps starting at the Moment, the Balls only grazed along his Breast, and went through his Shoulder, so that he is not mortally wounded.

The Earl of Halifax Packet Capt. Jefferies, sailed Yesterday with the Mail for Falmouth.

Captain Clark from Bristol, but last from Milford, on the 21st of March, spoke with the Ship Britannia, Captain Clark, of Philadelphia, bound from Barbados for Milford, about 14 Leagues from that Harbour, all well. And on the 9th of May, spoke Captain Biddle, in a Schooner from Lisbon for Philadelphia, out 10 Weeks, short of Provisions, of which Captain Clark spared them a small Supply.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.

Extract of a Letter from a very ingenious and eminent Philosopher in London, to a Gentleman in Philadelphia, dated Feb. 20, 1768.

"I received yours of Nov. 20, with the Description of a new Orrery, making by Mr. Rittenhouse. I had before heard much of his Ingenuity; but this is quite wonderful, to be performed by an American, as it seems to exceed any Thing of the Kind that has yet appeared in Europe."

Extract of a Letter from Fort Pitt, May 4, 1768.

"The Conference is almost over, and every thing better settled than I could have expected; and I think, when the Boundary Line is adjusted, and the Indians paid for the Lands, every Nation this Way will be perfectly satisfied."

In another Letter from Fort Pitt, dated April 26, it is said, "Colonel Reid, with seven other Officers, and a Party of 56 Men, of the 34th Regiment, arrived here on the 24th, from the Illinois, without meeting any Interruption on the Way."

A Letter from Bristol, of March 10, received by the Ellin, Captain Clark, arrived at New-York, says, "The Snow Penn, Captain Harkies (belonging to Philadelphia) in going down our River run ashore, broke some of her Timbers, and greatly damaged herself and Cargo; she is brought up, is now discharging, and it is presumed cannot be in readiness to sail before some Time in May. Captain Hawthorn, of the Ship Prince-George, intends sailing for the same Port the Beginning of April. The Brigantine Concord, Joseph Volans, Commander, was to sail for Philadelphia about the 13th of March."

Captain Williams, from Jamaica, on the 2d Instant, off the Matanzas, spoke a Brig, Captain Guitton, from Pensacola for this Port, out 9 Days; and on the 14th, in Lat. 36: 30, Long. 74, he spoke a Ship, Captain Brick, from Liverpool for Virginia, all well.

On the eighth Instant died in Frederick County, Virginia, Captain ALEXANDER STEPHEN, late an Officer of his Majesty's Royal American Regiment. He was a Gentleman of Integrity and Bravery. In General Braddock's Engagement he rescued the Colours of the 44th Regiment from the Enemy, after the Fall of Mr. Halket, and received two Wounds in the Action. He distinguished himself at the Reduction of Louisbourg, and Quebec; and under the Command of General Murray, on the Heights of Abraham, the famous 28th of April, in which Engagement he received a dangerous Wound, of which he never perfectly recovered.

On Monday the 9th Instant, the following Gentlemen were chosen Managers and Treasurer, for the House of Employment and Relief of the Poor of this City and Suburbs, viz.

MANAGERS, Joseph Fox, Abel James, Luke Morris, Samuel Rhoads, Samuel Burge, John Parrock, Jacob Lewis, Thomas Say, Joseph Wharton, junior, Charles Thompson, Stephen Collins, and James Penrose. TREASURER. Henry Drinker.

From Harris's Ferry we learn, that on the 27th of last Month, as two Men, named White, and Calvert, were crossing the Susquehanna in a Canoe, loaded with Bricks, a Squall of Wind sunk the Vessel, and they were both drowned.

The same Day, as one John Lukens was riding along the Road in Juniata, a Limb of a Tree fell on him, by which he was so much hurt, that he died in a few Hours after.

A R R I V A L S.

At Jamaica. Captains Stewart, Kerlin, Appleton, Robinson, Watt, and Huston, from Philadelphia; Captain Tucker, of this Port, last from Madeira; Captain Kelso, from Virginia; Dean, from Boston; and Captains Alboy and Ball, from New-York.

Carlisle Goal, Cumberland County, May 12, 1768.

NOW in said Goal the following Persons, committed on Suspicion of being Runaway Servants, viz. MATTHEW TAYLOR, a little old grey-haired Man, wears a Leather Cap, says he belongs to Mr. John Gill, at Chestnut-Ridge, in Baltimore County. ANGUS CAMPBELL, a well-set young Fellow, with very black Hair, tied behind, smooth Face, and very swarthy, wears an old red Coat. And JAMES BARNETT, a tall slender Fellow, has short brown Hair, thin faced, out-mouthed, peeked Chin, thin Beard, and very ragged Cloathing; the two last were taken up together, and had two Mares with them, which are supposed to be stolen; one is grey, with a very long Mane, the other black. The Masters of said Fellows, if any they have, are desired to come and take them away, otherwise they will be sold out for their Fees in four Weeks after the Date hereof, by HENRY CUNNINGHAM, Goaler. ¶

RUN away, on the 8th of this inst. May, at night, from Joseph Gavin, an indented English servant man, named JOHN BULGEN, born in London, by trade a shoemaker, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high, has short light coloured hair, very talkative, an artful deceiving fellow, and has the itch; he has got William Dougherty's indenture, who served his time with Samuel Howell, merchant, in Philadelphia, and as said indenture expired in May 1767, he will probably change his name, and endeavour to pass by that of William Dougherty: Had on when he went away, a light cloth coloured coat and jacket, the coat without lining, and the button holes worked with binding or tape, one white shirt with ruffles at the breast, one check ditto, a small hat cocked very sharp, buckskin breeches, blue grey stockings, and good shoes, with copper buckles in them. He came over with Captain Coburn last fall: Also took with him his tools. Whoever takes up and secures said servant in any goal in this province, shall receive Thirty Shillings; if out of the province, Forty Shillings reward, and all reasonable charges, paid by JOSEPH GAVIN, in Philadelphia.

All masters of vessels are forbid to carry him off, or harbour him at their peril.

To be SOLD, by the SUBSCRIBER,

THAT high, healthy, pleasant situated lot of land, on the left hand side going into Germantown from Philadelphia, containing 20 acres; it is 40 perches front on Germantown main street, whereon is a good orchard of the best of fruit trees, such as apple, pear, peach, cherry, &c. with about 3 acres of the best of watered meadow, which never wants manure, and about as much woodland, with good springs, and good building stone. Also about 10 acres of good meadow, on a road leading from Frankford to the Falls of Schuylkill, about a mile from Germantown; it is within fence, and has been mowed for two years last past. Likewise about 10 acres of very good woodland adjoining the aforesaid meadow. Any person inclining to purchase either of said lots, may know the terms, and view the premises, by applying to JACOB NAGLEE, near Germantown. ¶

Unity forge, on Nanticoke, May 13, 1768.

THERE is a new double forge erected on the head of Nanticoke river, in Sussex county, on Delaware, where forge men will meet with the best encouragement, by applying soon to the subscriber, manager at said works. Also any person that understands the business of a bloomery, will meet with encouragement, applying to said manager, as the proprietaries of said forge intend one of the fires for blooming of ore. There is a good stock provided, and only waiting for workmen to push her. SAMUEL SHANKLAND. ¶

For the information of LOVERS of MUSICK.

THE subscriber, living next door to the widow Mackenet, in Germantown, makes known, that he hath just finished, and to be sold at a reasonable rate, a neat upright standing harpsicord, which has been much admired by several good judges, for its sweetness of sound, as well as for the advantage of taking up so very little room, and of being an ornamental piece of furniture in any apartment. Said instrument may be seen and tried at the abovesaid place, where attendance will be given by the maker, JOHN ENGLE. ¶

Philadelphia, May 12, 1768. T. b. c. 6 W.

TO be SOLD by public vendue, on Third Day, the 31ſt of this inſtant May, A good houſe, tanyard, and well improved lot, of near four acres of land, in Haddonfield, New-Jerſey, about ſeven miles from Philadelphia, being a healthful and pleaſant ſpot. The advantages of its ſituation for procuring the beſt of bark, hides, and large Jerſey calf ſkins, in great numbers, are thought to be ſuperior to moſt, and inferior to none in Pennſylvania or the Jerſeys. The place will be ſold with or without the ſtock in the tanyard, and credit given for two thirds of the money, the purchaſer giving ſecurity, and paying intereſt for the remainder. To be alſo ſold, upon the ſame terms, a choice Lot of two acres of meadow, on Cooper's Creek, about three miles from the former. The vendue to be held on the place firſt mentioned, at two o' clock in the afternoon of the ſame day. For further particulars, apply to ¶ JOHN LANGDALE.

WHEREAS DARBY DURELL, of Lower Penn's Neck, in the county of Salem, and province of New-Jerſey, did bargain and ſell unto LEWIS CATTS, and WILLIAM GUEST, both of Upper Penn's Neck, in the county and province aforeſaid, a wood boat, of the burthen of 10 cords of wood, which ſaid Lewis Catts, and William Gueſt, did give their bond to ſaid Darby Durell for £ 60, lawful money of the province aforeſaid, being the ſum they agreed and bargain'd for ſaid boat. And as the obligation of this bond was ſuch, that the ſaid Darby Durell was to give to the ſaid Lewis Catts, and William Gueſt, a proper bill of ſale for ſaid boat, and to indemnify them, the ſaid Lewis Catts, and William Gueſt, from any claim or claims that any perſon or perſons, might have againſt ſaid boat; which obligation was never executed by the ſaid Darby Durell, as he was not the ſole owner of her, nor was he legally authorized to ſell ſaid boat; therefore this is to give public notice, that ſhould the ſaid Darby Durell attempt to aſſign over to any perſon or perſons whatſoever, our bond for ſaid boat, that we will never conſent to pay the bond, as we can make it appear that it was illegally entered into, ſhould it be required; as witneſs our hands this 14th of May, 1768. ¶

WILLIAM GUEST, junior, LEWIS CATTS.

TEN POUNDS Reward.

RUN away, the 26th of March laſt, from Frederick forge, in Frederick county, Maryland, at the mouth of Anti-Eatam creek, on Patowmack river, the two following ſervants, indented in London about July laſt; DAVID MEEK, a Scotchman, fond of ſtrong drink, writes well, and is capable of any writing buſineſs, or being a ſchoolmaſter, who was wholly employed as an aſſiſtant clerk at the ſaid forges, and is about 24 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, pretty broad in his ſhoulders, with long black hair, which he ſometimes ties behind, and ſleeps in a kind of thin knit cap; he had on, and took with him, a coat and jacket of light coloured cloth, and a black jacket with ſleeves, buckſkin breeches, pieced in the ſeat, a little ſullied, a good hat, and ſeveral white ſhirts, ſome of them ruffled, and marked on the hip D. M. with red ſilk. THOMAS WILKINS, ſuppoſed to be an Engliſhman, and is about 26 years of age, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, ſtoops in his ſhoulders, and has a ſhort neck, with brown hair, a joiner and houſe-carpenter by trade; had on, and took with him, a coat, jacket and breeches, of grey coarſe bearſkin cloth, and a blue jacket, a ſmall hat, old and ruſty, and his other apparel but ordinary; I am informed they have a paſs, or rather a diſcharge, ſigned Chriſtopher Lowndes, perhaps on ſearching their baggage, which they carried in a wide ſhort coarſe linen bag, and a wallet, or a pair of trowſers, papers may be found that Meek has had ſome correſpondence with Peter Brown, particularly in Edinburgh, his native place, and ſome kind of power to draw bills on his uncle, as he calls him. Whoever takes up the ſaid ſervants, ſo as their maſter (Dr. David Roſs, living in Bladenſburg, Maryland) may have them again, ſhall be paid the above reward, or Five Pounds for either, and reaſonable charges, if brought home (or to their maſter) by him, or by SAMUEL BEALL, junior, manager of the forges aforeſaid. ‖ 2 m.

WHEREAS Andrew Finley, and David Grier, both of Hopewell townſhip, York county, ſold a certain tract of land, lying in ſaid county, to contain 200 acres, to Hugh Gilbreath, of Dunmore townſhip, Lancaſter county, on account of which ſaid Finley and Grier received 12 obligations of ſaid Gilbreath, to the amount of 200 l. but upon further information, and enquiry made, it being ſuſpected the ſaid tract did not contain near the quantity ſold, neither would ſaid Finley and Grier come under obligations to make it good; therefore, theſe are to forewarn all perſons from taking an aſſignment on ſaid obligations, as I will not pay them, until compelled by law; given under my hand, the 2d of May 1768, ‡ HUGH GILBREATH.

To be SOLD for ready Money only,

At the houſe of Mr. Peter Steenberger, in Rumney, Hampſhire county, Virginia, on Friday, the 12th of Auguſt next, if any court ſhall be held in that month for the ſaid county, and if no court ſhall be then held, then on Friday, the 16th of September thereafter,

A CERTAIN plantation, or tract of land, ſituate on the ſouth branch of Patowmack, in the ſaid county of Hampſhire, and joining Mr. Relſe's ſalt-petre works, containing 374 acres (including three ſurveys of 165, 185 and 24 acres) being the plantation whereon Mr. Steenberger formerly lived; the land is in general good, extremely well timbered, and contains a large quantity of bottom, and, it is expected, ſome valuable banks of ſalt-petre.

Alſo one other tract of 400 acres, joining Col. Abraham Hite, in the ſaid county, which is alſo very valuable, being well watered, and containing near 300 acres of low land, fit for meadow, &c. Any perſon inclining to purchaſe, may be informed of further particulars, by applying to the ſaid Steenberger, who will ſhew the lands, or to the ſubſcriber in Wincheſter, Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By Captain VOLANS, arrived here from Briſtol, and the Captains MACKEY and HOOD, from Dublin, we have the following Advices, viz.

LONDON, March 15.

HER Majeſty was not at Court yeſterday, being indiſpoſed with a cold.

Orders were given to diſcontinue the levees at St. James's on Monday till further notice; in conſequence of which, no buſineſs was tranſacted yeſterday at Court.

A correſpondent, who dates his letter from the Smyrna Coffee-Houſe, and ſigns Verax, ſays,---- "The affair, with reſpect to Mr. W-----'s pardon, ſo far as I have been able to learn, has no other foundation than this. A noble D--- delivered to a great Perſonage a letter from W-----, which he condeſcended to read, and afterwards retired for a few minutes, in order, as ſuppoſed, to ſhew it to his illuſtrious Conſort; he then returned again into the apartment where the letter was firſt given him, but did not ſignify either any pleaſure or diſpleaſure on account of the letter; ſo that his taciturnity, on this occaſion, was conſidered by W-----'s friends as a favourable omen; and upon this they have puſhed him on to declare himſelf a candidate for the city of London in Parliament; with regard to which ſtep, our laſt, publickly expelled, for being, as was judged, righteous overmuch.----Several of a like ſtamp in the Univerſity of Cambridge, different opinions, in this part of the town, may be known, as uſual, by our wagers. Some have laid that Mr. W----- will we hear, are now threatened with the ſame treatment.----O tempora! O mores!"

March 17. Mr. Wilkes waited on the Chamberlain at his houſe, on Tueſday evening, and took up his freedom; and yeſterday morning, about nine o'clock, went to Guildhall, and was in the council chamber ſome time; from whence he proceeded, with the reſt of the candidates, upon the Huſtings, and was received by the people with loud acclamations. He made the following addreſs to the Livery.

GENTLEMEN,

"I am happy to find myſelf once more amongſt the friends and patrons of liberty. This day makes me glorious amends for the rigour of a long unmerited exile, in which the only conſolation remaining to me was, that from my ſufferings you had an uninterrupted enjoyment of your moſt invaluable rights and priviledges: Since the exertion of my firmneſs in an important moment, no Miniſter has once dared to iſſue a general warrant againſt your perſons, or to ſign an order for the ſeizure of your papers; and I truſt that ſuch deſpotiſm will never be again exerciſed over the free ſubjects of this country.

"I ſtand here, Gentlemen, a private man, unconnected with the great, and unſupported by any party. I have no ſupport but you: I wiſh no other ſupport: I can have none more certain, none more honourable.-----If I have the happineſs, Gentlemen, of being returned to Parliament by your favour, I ſhall be ready to pay the greateſt deference to the ſentiments of my conſtituents on every occaſion, and ſhall dedicate myſelf to their ſervice, by promoting, to the utmoſt of my abilities, the trade and commerce of this great metropolis, by which alone it can maintain the firſt rank it now enjoys, and I hope, with its liberties, will ever enjoy."

All the other candidates likewiſe addreſſed the Livery, previous to the holding up of hands.

There was as full a hall as ever was known upon the like occaſion, and ſo great was the curioſity of the people to ſee Mr. Wilkes, that ſeveral thouſand ſurrounded the hall, and Kingſtreet was quite full, where they waited from nine o'clock in the morning till the poll ended.

This day on cloſing the poll, for four members to repreſent this city in parliament, the numbers were as follows:

For Sir Robert Ladbroke	644
Right Hon. Tho. Harley	626
Mr. Alderman Beckford	508
Mr. Alderman Trecothic	506
Sir Richard Glyn	486
John Patterſon, Eſq;	363
John Wilkes, Eſq;	172

Yeſterday Earl Percy, and the Hon. Mr. Sandys, were unanimouſly elected members to repreſent the city and liberty of Weſtminſter in the enſuing parliament.

Yeſterday came on the election of members for Guildford, in Surry, when George Onſlow, Eſq; and Sir Fletcher Norton, Knight, were choſen without oppoſition.

Yeſterday John Radcliffe, and Richard Sutton, Eſquires, were choſen members for the borough of St. Alban's.

Lord George Cavendiſh having declined ſtanding a candidate for the town of Lancaſter, Sir George Warren, and Francis Reynolds, Eſq; their late members, will be re-elected without oppoſition.

'Tis ſaid that Sir George Macartney is to be one of his Majeſty's Poſt-Maſters-General.

Yeſterday Sir George Colebrooke, and George Maclane, Eſq; were elected members for Arundel, in Suſſex.

Monday ſix guineas were given for three fowls, in the Borough-market.

They write from Berlin, that the King of Pruſſia is indefatigable in putting his troops on the beſt footing; and that great preparations are making againſt the grand review which is ſoon to take place.

Yeſterday as the Duke of Northumberland came out of White's, in St. James's-ſtreet, he threw a conſiderable quantity of ſilver among the populace, on account of the election of Earl Percy, his Grace's ſon.

From Madrid we learn, that the Spaniſh miniſtry are going to exhibit a ſpecimen of frugality, by reducing a number of officers who were a burthen to the State, and applying large ſums, which went under the name of perquiſites in theſe offices, to the increaſe of their marine forces.

They write from Rochfort, that the Lyonnois, and Rochefoucault, two ſhips of 74 guns, had juſt been launched there.

They write from Dunkirk, that ſeveral Britiſh artizans had within the laſt fortnight arrived there, to be employed in the ſeveral manufactories throughout the kingdom.

The election for Hythe, in Kent, came on yeſterday, when ------ Evelyn, Eſq; of St. Clare, in Kent (ſon of the late member William Glanville, Eſq;) and John Sawbridge, Eſq; of Ollantigh, in the ſame county, were choſen without oppoſition, Lord George Sackville, and Sir Charles Farnaby, Bart. having declined.

Mr. Wilkes has not obtained a pardon, or the promiſe of a pardon.

Since Friday laſt one ſhip from Holland, two from Hamburgh, one from Leghorn, two from Dantzick, and two from the Streights, laden with corn, have arrived in the River.

To the Printer of the London Chronicle.

To obviate certain ſcruples reſpecting the preſent election of members for the city of London, two things have been boldly aſſerted:

1. That Mr. Wilkes has got a pardon.

2. That there is an act of parliament, by which the members of the city of London are excepted out of the general law for the qualification of members.

Both theſe aſſertions are abſolutely falſe.

Mr. Wilkes has no pardon.

There is no ſuch act of parliament.

The proof is the ſhorteſt in the world; let any two voters demand of each of the candidates, that he ſhould take the oath of qualification, and ſee whether any of them will dare to refuſe it.

BY virtue of a writ to me directed, will be expoſed to public ſale, on Thurſday, the 9th day of June, at the London Coffee-houſe, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, a lot of ground, ſituate on the eaſt-ſide of Front-ſtreet, between High-ſtreet, and Mulberry-ſtreets, containing in breadth on Front-ſtreet, about 15 feet, and extending back to Water-ſtreet, 46 feet, having a two ſtory brick dwelling-houſe on Front-ſtreet, and a four ſtory brick dwelling-houſe on Water-ſtreet erected thereon, the whole lot being ſubject to a quitrent of Fifteen Shillings ſterling, and a groundrent of Nineteen Shillings and Eight-pence currency per annum; late the eſtate of Richard Swan; ſeized and taken in execution by JOSEPH REDMAN, Sheriff.

BY virtue of a writ to me directed, will be expoſed to public ſale, on Friday, the 10th day of June, at the houſe of Joſeph Ogden, at the ſign of the Croſs Keys, in Cheſtnut-ſtreet, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, a lot of ground, with a two ſtory dwelling-houſe erected thereon, ſituate on the ſouth ſide of Walnut-ſtreet, between Third and Fourth-ſtreets, containing in front on Walnut-ſtreet, 22 feet 9 inches, and in depth 100 feet, bounded by lands of William Cox, Eſq; William Brown, and John Knowles; late the eſtate of Iſrael Morris; ſeized and taken in execution by JOSEPH REDMAN, Sheriff.

BY virtue of a writ to me directed, will be expoſed to public ſale, on Saturday, the 11th of June, at 6 o'clock in the evening, at the houſe of Elijah Weed, at the ſign of King George, the corner of Fourth and Mulberry-ſtreets, two undivided third parts, the whole into three equal parts to be divided, of and in a certain lot of ground, ſituate on the north ſide of Mulberry-ſtreet, in the city of Philadelphia, containing in front on ſaid ſtreet, 17 feet, and extending thence to Apple-tree Alley, 140 feet, having two two ſtory brick, and a frame meſſuage thereon erected; late the property of John Baſtick; ſeized and taken in execution by JOSEPH REDMAN, Sheriff.

Time will be given, if required, for Part of the Purchaſe Money, by giving good Security, &c. For further Particulars, enquire of PETER OSBORNE, living next Door to the Land-Office, in Fourth-ſtreet, Philadelphia; or to JAMES LEA, in Wilmington. §4W.

THREE POUNDS Reward.

RUN away, the 3d of May inſt. from the Subſcribers, in Cumberland County, Weſt New-Jerſey, two Negroe Men, one about 5 Feet 10 or 11 Inches high, named PETER; had with him two Felt Hats, 1 fine Shirt, 1 Woollen, and 2 coarſe Ditto, a Thickſet Coat, with a Cape, a black Cut-Velvet Jacket, blue Pluſh Breeches, a Pair of Leather Ditto, 2 Pair of Woollen ribbed Stockings, 1 Pair of Thread Ditto, 2 Pair of Shoes, Braſs Buckles, and 5 or 6 Caps. The other named WILL, is a ſtout well ſet Fellow, not quite ſo tall as Peter; had with him, when he went away, one brown Jacket, 1 old Ditto, without Sleeves, blue Breeches, no Hat. As they are artful Fellows, it is not unlikely they may change their Cloaths and Names, the latter came from Carolina, and it is likely they may try to get there again; and as he can write, and they have taken Pen and Ink with them, it is not unlikely they will produce a Paſs. Whoever ſecures ſaid Negroes, ſo as their Maſters may have them again, ſhall have the above Reward, or Thirty Shillings for either of them, paid by EPHRAIM SEELY, ISAAC ANTRIM. †

STOCKHOLM, February 12.

BANKRUPTCIES become daily more frequent in this kingdom. There has juſt happened ſuch an one as we never before had an example of, viz. that of an entire city (Nicarleby, in Finland) the Magiſtrates of which, and all the inhabitants, except a ſingle merchant, named Regratier, have declared themſelves inſolvent to the Parliament of Abo. Three fourths of the inhabitants of the town of Vaſa are alſo reduced to the ſame extremity.

LONDON, March 14.

We hear the betts laid amongſt the Nobility and Gentry at the Weſt end of the town, is 500 guineas to 200, that Mr. Wilkes will be returned member for the city of London.

Thurſday laſt two pots of young oak were preſented to the Royal Society from Mr. Wm. Aiton, botanic gardiner to her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales at Kew. They were raiſed from acorns of the year 1766, which have been preſerved in wax from the 22d of February, 1767, to the beginning of December, 1767, when they were committed to his care, by deſire of the Royal Society, to try if they would vegetate, and there are already 25 young oaks come up, out of the 34 acorns which were ſown. At the ſame time the manner of preſerving them was communicated to the Earl of Moreton, Preſident of the Royal Society, in a letter from J. Ellis, Eſq; of Gray's-Inn, F. R. S. wherein Mr. Ellis has ſhewn how to avoid the ſcalding heat of the wax, which is apt to deſtroy the germ of moſt ſeeds incloſed in it. By this method the moſt valuable ſeeds may be brought from the remoteſt parts of the earth in the growing ſtate, which may in time be of conſiderable uſe to the trade of our American colonies.

Extract of a letter from Glaſgow, March 3.

"This day the model of a machine was ſent off to the Royal Society, London. This machine is to be a great ſaving to the farmer, in ſeed and labour; as by it corn and plants may be ſown or tranſplanted, at any given diſtance, or depth, in the ground; and both ſeed and labour to coſt only from two to five ſhillings per acre; it was viewed by ſeveral gentlemen, and has the appearance of great ſaving and value to the intereſting branch of huſbandry."

Within this Week the price of wool has been advanced near eight per cent.

March 15. We hear that the freedom of the city of London has been preſented to Mr. WILKES, by the Joiners company, in a box of the heart of true Engliſh oak.

It is extremely remarkable, that the motto of the worſhipful Joiners company, in which Mr. WILKES has lately taken up his freedom, is, JOIN LOYALTY and LIBERTY.

It is ſaid the members of the new Parliament will meet in May, for the choice of a Speaker, to ſwear in the members, and alſo to paſs one or more acts; which will be deemed one of the ſeven ſeſſions; after which the Parliament will be prorogued till the uſual time for the diſpatch of buſineſs.

A wager of 100 guineas was laid yeſterday at a noted Coffee-houſe near the Exchange, that John Wilkes, Eſq; would be elected for the city of London, and the ſame ſum that he would have twenty votes more than any other candidate.

Yeſterday Lord Alſton read his recantation of the errors of popery, embraced the proteſtant religion, and received the ſacrament at St. James's church.

We are told by letters from Rome, that had it not been for the intervention of cardinal Albani, the Pope would have been lately irreconcilably embroiled with the Duke of Modena. That prince, it ſeems, had preſented a petition to the pontiff for obtaining a tax upon the eccleſiaſticks, and a reform of certain ſmall convents, in his dominions; but the court of Rome thought the requeſt improper, and did not vouchſafe to give the Duke an anſwer. Upon this, the miniſter of Modena ſoon received orders to retire from Rome; and things were running to great extremity, when cardinal Albani, whoſe candour and moderation are well known, interpoſed his good offices, and engaged the Pope to conſent to the Duke of Modena's demands.

It is ſaid, that a certain great perſon, who was lately at a certain Northern court in a public character, left the ſame on account of his being engaged in an amorous adventure, ſimilar to that of a certain perſonage at home, who has been the ſubject of much converſation for ſome time paſt; for which reaſon it is confidently ſaid he will ſhortly reſign, and be appointed to another employment, leſt his going to the ſame court again, might be attended with ſome diſagreeable circumſtances.

From the St. James's Chronicle, March 17.

Yeſterday came on at Guildhall, the election for four Repreſentatives of this city, when the majority of hands was declared to be for the right hon. the Lord Mayor, Sir Robert Ladbroke, William Beckford, Eſq; and John Wilkes, Eſq; the Sheriffs being at firſt doubtful, whether the Lord Mayor, Sir Richard Glyn, Barlow Trecothick, Eſq; or John Patterſon, Eſq; had the greateſt ſhew of hands, thoſe four were put up again, when the majority appeared to be in favour of the Lord Mayor; but a poll was demanded for Sir Richard Glyn, Barlow Trecothick, Eſq; and John Patterſon, Eſq; which began at three, and cloſed at five.

At cloſing the books of the poll laſt night the numbers were,

for	The right hon. the Lord Mayor,	64
	Sir Robert Ladbroke,	81
	William Beckford, Eſq;	59
	Barlow Trecothick, Eſq;	60
	Sir Richard Glyn,	57
	John Patterſon, Eſq;	59
	John Wilkes, Eſq;	29

Yeſterday Earl Pearcy, and the hon. Mr. Sandys, (elected members to repreſent the city and liberty of Weſtminſter, in the enſuing Parliament) proceeded to the Huſtings, under the portico of Covent-Garden church, from the head quarters, at the Thatched Houſe Tavern, in St. James's Street, preceded by a band of muſic, flags, &c. and followed by a long train of coaches, with vaſt numbers of the conſtituents on foot.---Their Majeſties, and the young Princes, viewed the above proceſſion from the windows of Lady Charlotte Finch's apartments at St. James's.

Yeſterday at Guildhall, before the nomination of the Candidates, Mr. Trecothick addreſſed the Livery in the following manner:

"Gentlemen of the Livery, my Fellow-Citizens,

"Upon this my firſt attempt to addreſs ſo numerous and reſpectable a body, I ſtand in need of all that candour and indulgence for which this place hath ever been ſo laudably remarkable. For a long courſe of years I have been converſant in the commerce of Great-Britain, and I can ſay with truth, that the exports of its manufactures, in my branch of trade, hath, during my time, been conſiderably increaſing; but I muſt add, with concern, that in many other branches it hath greatly declined;----- hence ariſes that degree of diſtreſs which ſo evidently afflicts many populous parts of this kingdom. To revive, to extend manufactures, to remove their burthens and diſcouragements, ſhould be the peculiar ſtudy of every Britiſh Senator: It ſhall be mine, if I am honoured with your choice. I wiſh my abilities were equal to my inclinations; vigilance at leaſt, and aſſiduity in this purſuit, ſhall not be wanting on my part.

"Gentlemen, I am untried in the important ſtation of repreſenting a free people in Parliament: Thus far, therefore, I will profeſs, and no farther. I know the invaluable bleſſing of our happy conſtitution and laws. I know that the utmoſt exertion of zeal is due to the ſupport of liberty, on every occaſion, againſt every arbitrary party. The man who, under this conviction, ſolicits and obtains the higheſt truſt, and afterwards betrays it, would merit everlaſting infamy. It ſhall, Gentlemen, be my earneſt endeavour, in the whole courſe of my conduct, to acquit myſelf to my own conſcience; ſure in ſo doing to obtain and to preſerve your approbation and favour."

Extract of a letter from an Engliſh Gentleman at Paris to his friend in London, Feb. 23.

"A perſon went from hence to London about five weeks ago, his name is H. born in England, but bred in France; and I have poſitive intelligence, that his commiſſion is to decoy our workmen in flint glaſs, and in the copperas and oil of vitriol works. He is firſt to attempt it about London, and if he fails there, is to go all over England, ſparing no expence, till he comes at his ends."

Mr. Wilkes has not obtained a pardon, or the promiſe of a pardon. LOND. CHRON.

It is poſitively aſſerted, that laſt night, and not before, Mr. Wilkes was complimented with the royal pardon. LOND. E. P.

It is ſaid, that a noble E-rl's friendſhip for a certain popular gentleman is ſo great, that he has declared he would ſpend 50,000*l. ſooner than he ſhould be diſappointed of a ſeat in an auguſt aſſembly.*

Yeſterday William Dickenſon, Eſq; was choſen member for Great Marlow, Bucks.

Yeſterday came on the election at Ayleſbury, when Anthony Bacon, Eſq; the old member, and John Durand, Eſq; of Caſhalton, in Surry, were choſen without oppoſition.

It was generally agreed, that Sir Richard Glyn had a majority of hands on the firſt appearance at Guildhall on the day of nomination; but before the ſecond holding up of hands, a great number of his friends had unluckily quitted the hall, not expecting the majority in his favour would be diſputed.

'Tis conjectured, that the cauſe of the extraordinary procedure, of the city of Paris being ſurrounded by 40,000 men, is owing to ſome great treaſonable crime, like that of Damiens.

BRISTOL, March 17.

On Thurſday laſt the Right Hon. Lord Viſcount Clare, one of our worthy Repreſentatives in Parliament, arrived in this city. The ſame day the friends of Matthew Brickdale, Eſq; attended him at the White Lion in Broad-ſtreet, and conducted him from thence to the Merchants-hall, where he was preſented to his Lordſhip, and met with a moſt polite reception, in the preſence of their numerous friends. Between the hours of twelve and one they proceeded in proceſſion to the Exchange, where they declared themſelves Candidates to repreſent this city in the enſuing parliament, amidſt the acclamations of ſeveral thouſands of the inhabitants.

And yeſterday, between ten and eleven o'clock, the above candidates, accompanied by the Right Worſhipful the Mayor, ſeveral Aldermen, the Sheriffs, and many other Gentlemen of the firſt diſtinction in this city, went from the Council-houſe to the Guildhall, where after taking the poll of about fifty perſons, they were declared duly elected. About one o'clock they took the chair, and were carried from the hall, up Broad-ſtreet, along Wine-ſtreet, round St. Peter's pump, down St. Maryport-ſtreet and High-ſtreet, along the back, through part of King-ſtreet, entered the ſquare at the avenue adjoining to the Cuſtom-houſe, proceeded all round, and came out at the beginning of Princes-ſtreet, near the Merchants-hall, continued the proceſſion along the Key, up Small-ſtreet, and ſat the members down at the Council-houſe.---Never did there appear more univerſal joy than on the preſent occaſion; every heart ſeemed to glow with ardour, and every face was expreſſive of the united approbation; the voice of the innumerable multitude was as the voice of one man; and the unanimity that prevailed among the inhabitants of this opulent city, cannot but be conſidered as an happy preſage to the total extinction of party ſpirit: the conſideration of which, muſt afford every rational mind that complacency, which is better felt than expreſſed.

In the evening public houſes were opened in all the pariſhes of the city (as they were alſo laſt Tueſday) for the entertainment of the friends of all parties.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) May 2, 1768.

Ocunnaſtotah, or the Great-Warrior, and others of the Cherokee Indians, who embarked here in November laſt for New-York, to make peace with the Northern tribes that have ſo much annoyed them of late years, are returned in the ſloop Jeſſe, Capt. Hunt, having ſucceeded in the buſineſs they went upon, under the mediation of his Excellency General Gage, and Sir William Johnſon, Superintendant of the Northern Diſtrict. The Congreſs was held at Sir William's, in the Mohawks country, where about 800 Indians met; and there the Cherokees concluded a peace not only with the tribes called the Six Nations, but alſo with ſeven confederated nations of Canada. Attakullakulla, with the reſt, return by land, accompanied by near an hundred of their new friends, and call at Pittſburgh, on their way, to conclude a like treaty with the Shawaneſe and Delawares.

WILLIAMSBURG, April 21.

By the Houſe of Burgeſſes. Saturday, 16th of April, 1768.

Reſolved, THAT the public faith is engaged to ſecure the redemption of the Treaſury notes now remaining in circulation at all events; and therefore, although an act hath paſſed to diſcontinue the land and poll tax impoſed to be collected in this and the ſucceeding year, from a perſuaſion that the other taxes, and the arrears due to the public, which are to affect that redemption, are fully ſufficient for that purpoſe, that yet if any deficiencies ſhould happen in thoſe arrears, the ſame ought to be ſupplied and made good by the public.

A true Copy, G. WYTHE, C. H. B.

Extracts from the JOURNAL of the HOUSE of BURGESSES.

Thurſday, the 7th of April, 8 Geo. III. 1768.

Reſolved, THAT it is the opinion of this Committee, That an humble and dutiful petition be preſented to our moſt Gracious Sovereign, to aſſure him of our moſt cordial and inviolable attachment to his ſacred perſon and government.

To acknowledge, with the higheſt ſenſe of gratitude, the many great and ſignal benefits we have reaped from our parent kingdom, under the glorious and auſpicious reigns of his Majeſty and his predeceſſors; and, with all humility, to ſubmit to his princely conſideration the tenor of our whole conduct, and that of our anceſtors, as the moſt lively evidence of our duty and affection.

To reiterate our unfeigned thanks to his Majeſty, for his gracious and ready aſſent to the repeal of the late oppreſſive Stamp-Act, but, at the ſame time, in the moſt decent and reſpectful manner, to repreſent to him how very ſhort an interval of peace and happineſs we have enjoyed between that happy event, and the enacting ſeveral late acts of the Britiſh Parliament, equally burthenſome to his Majeſty's colonies in general, and, as we moſt humbly conceive, equally derogatory to their juſt rights and privileges.

To implore his fatherly protection of this and all our ſiſter colonies, whoſe true and eſſential intereſts will ever incline them not only to wiſh, but to promote the proſperity of Great-Britain, to the utmoſt of their abilities.

Reſolved, THAT it is the opinion of this Committee, That a memorial be prepared, to be laid before the Right Hon. the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of the Britiſh Parliament, to acknowledge the juſtice of Parliament in the repeal of the late oppreſſive Stamp-Act, formerly complained of, as derogatory to the rights of the people in this, and the other colonies and provinces in America.

To expreſs our due ſenſe of the happineſs and ſecurity we derive from our connection with, and dependance upon, Great-Britain: The pleaſure we enjoy in a perſuaſion that our endeavours in making ſuch ſuitable returns for their protection, as might render the connection deſirable to both, have not been unſucceſsful: And our deep concern that any incident ſhould interrupt that harmony we wiſh ever to ſubſiſt.

To aſſert with decent firmneſs, becoming Freemen, but at the ſame time with great deference to the wiſdom of Parliament, the rights of the coloniſts, to be bound by ſuch laws only, reſpecting their internal polity or taxation, as are conſented to by Repreſentatives choſen by themſelves: And to repreſent that we cannot but conſider ſeveral late acts of the Britiſh legiſlature, impoſing duties and taxes to be collected in the colonies, as an infringement of thoſe rights.

And to intreat their Lordſhips, the hereditary guardians of Britiſh Liberty, to interpoſe their power in procuring a repeal of thoſe acts, and in preſerving to us, his Majeſty's diſtant ſubjects, the full enjoyment of all our natural and conſtitutional rights.

Reſolved, THAT it is the opinion of this Committee, That a remonſtrance on the ſame ſubject, and to the like effect, be prepared, to be laid before the Hon. Houſe of Commons.

The ſaid reſolutions being ſeverally read a ſecond time, were, upon the queſtion ſeverally put thereupon, agreed to by the Houſe, nemine contradicente.

Ordered, That Mr. Bland, Mr. Treaſurer, Mr. Pendleton, Mr. Woodbridge, Mr. Archibald Cary, Mr. Blair, Mr. Dudley Digges, Mr. Page, Mr. Eyre, Mr. Francis Lightfoot Lee, Mr. Benjamin Harriſon, and Mr. Alexander, do draw up an humble and dutiful petition to his Majeſty, a memorial to the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of the Britiſh Parliament, and a remonſtrance to be laid before the Honourable Houſe of Commons, purſuant to the ſaid reſolutions.

BOSTON, May 12.

We learn by letters from Captain Jarvis, That the latter end of February, a bill was brought into Parliament to continue the bounty on Greenland ſhips to the year 1770, when the act, favourable to the American fiſhery, expires: The bill was ſupported by adminiſtration. The M-n-ſtry declared their idea to be, that both acts might expire together, when they could take the Matter up in the whole, and give that preference to the Britiſh ſhips, as would weaken and leſſen the American fiſhery.-----Mr. Gr--v--lle ſaid, that he intended to have thrown that whole branch of buſineſs into the hands of the Americans, conſidering them as better ſituated for it than Great-Britain, conſidering them too, as part of the Britiſh empire, and as ſuch, ſubject to the Supreme Legiſlative controul of Parliament; but ſince the Americans had denied this Supreme Power,-----ſince they held opinions the moſt dangerous, the moſt traiterous to this country----- Since even ſome in England had doubted the Supreme Power of Parliament over them----he had changed his views, and thought every encouragement, every preference ought to be given to the Britiſh ſhips:----he alſo declared in the houſe, that the Americans had no right at all,----none, to the fiſhery, it was conquered by our arms, or protected by our power, and that all the privilege of fiſhing which America had, was by the favour, indulgence and kindneſs of Great-Britain: When Mr. G--v--lle mentioned the fiſhery, he extended it to all the fiſheries; and it is ſaid, that it has been in contemplation, to lay an heavy duty upon every fiſhing veſſel belonging to the province.

We hear from Nantucket, that an Indian, who ſome time ſince murdered his fellow-priſoner in the goal of that place, as formerly mentioned, has been tried, condemned, and is ſhortly to be executed. He received ſentence of death with the utmoſt compoſure, and ſeemed quite unconcerned about the horrid and deliberate murder which he had perpetrated.

NEW-HAVEN, May 13.

Laſt Wedneſday Captain Joſeph Trowbridge arrived here in 20 days from Montſerrat; he informs, that the court was ſitting there daily for the trial of the rebellious negroes, ſeveral of whom were condemned and executed;---that great rewards were offered for apprehending ſix of the ringleaders, who had fled to the mountains, where it was ſaid they had concealed a great number of fire-arms, &c. but that the moſt excruciating pain of the rack could not extort from thoſe who had been executed, a confeſſion where their magazine was.

NEW-YORK, May 23.

We hear from New-Ark that, on Friday laſt, the Court-Houſe of that Town, by an Accident, ſuppoſed to ariſe from the Chimney's taking Fire, was like to have been reduced to Aſhes; but by the extraordinary Dexterity of the Inhabitants, it was happily prevented from doing any other Damage, than burning Part of the Roof.

And we hear from the Manor of Courtland, that one Day laſt Week, a fine large Dwelling-Houſe of Mr. Verplank's, was entirely conſumed to Aſhes; ſaid to be occaſioned by the Careleſſneſs of an old Negroe Wench, carrying a Coal of Fire between two Chips, to light her Pipe:---The Wind being pretty freſh, there was no ſtopping of it, till all was down. Great Part of the Furniture is ſaid to be deſtroyed, and the Damage between 2 and 3000*l.*

Captain Hunt, from Bermuda, informs us, that his Majeſty's Sloop of War, the Ferrit, Captain Bickerton, had lately put into that Iſland, on her Voyage from Jamaica for London, having on board about 40,000*l.* on Account of the London Merchants.

Capt. William Richards arrived here from London, laſt Friday: He ſailed from the Downs the 10th of March.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.

Captain Mackey, from Dublin, on the 11th Inſtant, in Lat. 37:30, Long. 62:30, ſpoke a Brig, Captain Breen, from Cape-Fear for Briſtol, 10 Days out, all well.

Captain Jones, from Barbados, informs, that there has been a great Drought at that Place; that at many of the Plantations they had put their Plants into the Ground twice, and were obliged to dig them up again, and put in others, having failed for Want of Rain; that Captain Greenway, of this Port, ſailed for London a few Days before he left that Iſland, as did Capt. Whitlock, alſo of this Place, for Briſtol.----On the 16th Inſtant, in Lat. 32:46, Long. 70:10, he ſpoke a Sloop, Captain Matthews, from Antigua for Virginia, out 8 Days; on the 19th, in Lat. 37, Long. 73, ſpoke a Snow from Virginia for Liverpool, and another Snow from Virginia for Briſtol, two Days out, with 6 or 8 Sail in Company.

Friday laſt came up to Town, the Ship Baltic Merchant, Capt. Livingſton, who informs, that he ſailed from Virginia on the 26th of April, bound to Cadiz; that after being 5 days at Sea the Ship proved ſo leaky in her Starboard Quarter, as to keep one Pump conſtantly going; that on the 3d Inſtant, being then in Lat. 34:50, ſhe made ſo much Water, that it was concluded to put back for the firſt Port they could make; that on the 11th the Leaks ſtill increaſing, they were obliged to throw Part of her Cargoe overboard, to lighten the Veſſel, after which they gave the Ship a Careen, and nailed Canvaſs over about 18 or 20 Feet of the Part where the principal Leaks were, or in all Probability they would not have been able to bring her into Port, as the People were quite ſpent with conſtant pumping; that on the 14th, they met with a Gale of Wind, and were obliged to ſcud before it, the Water gaining on them if they hove to; that in the Heighth of their Diſtreſs he ſaw a Ship ſtanding to the Eaſtward, about a League to Windward of him, when he made ſeveral Signals of Diſtreſs, but ſhe hauled her Wind, and would not ſpeak him; and that on the 19th he got into our Capes, his Cargoe greatly damaged.

Captain Blewer, from Quebec, on Monday the 16th Inſtant, ſpoke the Captains Hardcaſtle and Chancellor, and ſaw Captain Sparks, who had all left our Capes that Day.

By Captain Volans, from Briſtol, there is Advice, that the Snow Penn, Captain Harkies, had not received ſo much Damage as has been repreſented; her Ground Tier of Nails being the only Part of the Cargoe that was damaged; that ſhe was to ſail for this Port the Beginning of April, as was alſo the Schooner Olive Branch, Captain Tingley, for New-York.---On the 4th Inſtant, in Lat. 39, Long. 56, he ſpoke a Ship from Virginia for Glaſgow, 9 Days out, all well

By Captain Rodgers from Montſerrat we learn, that three of the Negroes concerned in the late intended Inſurrection, had ſuffered the Rack, two were burnt, one gibbetted, and one hanged, beſides others that had deſtroyed themſelves; that ſeveral more were tried, and found guilty, but Sentence was not paſſed; and that 70 or 80 ſtill remained on board the Veſſels in the Harbour, in order for Trial.-----On the 14th Inſtant, in Lat. 30, Long. 70:30, he ſpoke a Schooner, Captain Bailey, from Nevis for Norfolk in Virginia, 10 Days out; the ſame Day he ſpoke a Brig, Captain Randall, from New-York for New-Orleans; and on the 17th, in Lat. 34:23, Long. 73, he ſpoke a Sloop, Capt. Allen, from Nevis for New-London, out 14 Days, all well.

We are deſired to acquaint the Public, that there will be three Purſes to be run for over the Center Courſe of Philadelphia, in October next, one of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS, and two of FIFTY POUNDS each. The Particulars will be inſerted in future Papers.

At the Supreme Court held at Carliſle, a few Days ago, a Man was tried for Burglary, and received Sentence of Death. During the Term, Bills were found, by the Grand Jury, againſt twenty three of the Reſcuers of Stump and Ironcutter.
